Arabs Appear To Be Solving Own Problems

New Middle East Resolution Seen Ending U.N. Parley

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly headed today toward a quick end to its emergency session after formulations of a four-point Arab plan to bring peace to the Middle East.

Western diplomats predicted unanimous support of the 81 Assembly members for the resolution drawn up Wednesday night in a rare show of unanimity by the 10 Arab nations in the U.N.

The plan was an Arab modification of a Western-backed Norwegian resolution now pending before the Assembly, and both contained key points suggested by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and President Eisenhower. But the Arab resolution shed away from specific endorsement of earlier proposals for either a U.N. police force or more U.N. observers in the Middle East.

Like the Norwegian resolution, the Arab proposal calls on Hammarskjöld to make arrangements that would permit withdrawal of U.S. troops from Lebanon and British forces from Jordan.

A new feature is a reaffirmation of the Arab nations' previous pledges not to interfere in each other's affairs, pledges which the Lebanese and Jordanian governments have charged President Nasser's United Arab Republic with ignoring completely.

The plan was cable to the Arab capitals for approval. If this last hurdle is cleared, the resolution might be presented to the Assembly today, an Arab spokesman said. If it is adopted, the session might end tonight or Friday.

An American spokesman said the U.S. delegation "thoroughly approves the Arab countries' trying to deal themselves with the problem of protecting the independence of each of them." But he stopped short of outright endorsement of the new proposal, saying that the American delegates were giving it close study.

Secretary of State Dulles hastened back to the United Nations Wednesday night after a flying trip to Washington for a conference with Eisenhower. He went into immediate consultations with Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge on the Arab proposal.

The United States and Britain have been main supporters of the Norwegian proposal to ask Hammarskjöld to draft general recommendations for a Middle East settlement. The sudden Arab move made it doubtful the Norwegian plan would be put to a vote.

Ohio UAW Plans Fund To Fight Ballot Issue

CLEVELAND (AP)—About 200 representatives of Ohio locals in region 2 of the United Auto Workers Union voted Wednesday night to contribute one dollar per member for a campaign against a proposal to ban the union shop in Ohio. An estimated $25,000 would be raised in this manner. The proposal will be on the Nov. 4 ballot as a constitutional amendment.

Barney Baker's Memory Bad About Funds for Girl Friend

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert (Barney) Baker swore today he didn't use teamster money to support a blonde convicted slayer in luxury in Miami in 1955. He said he couldn't remember exactly where he did get the money.

Baker, a $125 a week teamsters union organizer at the time, said the funds he put out for blonde Mrs. Ruth Brougher were "nothing like" the $20,000 to $25,000 she has testified he lavished on her. He set the figure Wednesday at $7,000 or $8,000.

Pressed by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee to tell the source of the thousands, the 300-pound Baker pleaded, "I can't remember. I don't want to perjure myself."

Baker, an ex-convict described by police as a one-time musclem on the New York waterfront, said he had no recollection of threatening to kill Mrs. Brougher's lawyer or trying to strangle a Chicago hotel man who had complained about his bill. But he did not flatly deny he did those things.

He did deny giving to Mrs. Brougher's lawyer, George Everett, in an effort to fix the courts

Shed No Tear—She's Loaded

Meg's Income Cut $25,200 a Year

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret became 28 today and automatically began losing another 9,000 pounds—$25,200—a year.

That's what it cost Queen Elizabeth

PRINCESS MARGARET

both the pretty sister not to have a husband.

Margaret's matrimonial losses are figured this way:

Parliament in 1937 granted her an annuity of 6,000 pounds on attaining the age of 21, or upon marriage.

In 1952, Parliament increased the amount, to become payable on marriage, to 15,000 pounds a year.

This, of course, means that it costs her 9,000 pounds every year she remains single.

Shed no tears for Margaret's financial situation, however. She is loaded.

By law she and other members of the royal family are exempt from paying income tax.

They pay no inheritance tax.

Margaret is known to have been left substantial sums by her father, King George VI, and her grandmother, Queen Mary.

She pays no rent at Clarence House or at Royal Lodge, Windsor Great Park, her official residences.

She shares her residences with her mother, the Queen Mother, which means paying only half the food, electricity, gas, coal and water bill.

She celebrated her birthday in Scotland as the Queen's guest at Balmoral Castle.

At breakfast she was reported to have received her birthday presents.

A small family dinner party was on tap for the evening, after a royal family picnic on the shores of Loch Muick.

But she's still out another 9,000 pounds. And, unless it's the best kept secret in the Highlands, no suitor is coming through the rye.

Training Plane Shot Down

GRANDVIEW, Mo. (AP)—High over western Missouri a jet plane streaked northward toward Kansas Wednesday. It was unidentified, and thus presumed by the Air Force to be an enemy.

At Richards-Gebaur AFB here on the southern outskirts of Kansas City, a sleek F102A jet took off to intercept the invader.

Within minutes, 1st Lt. Roland Svane, 26, Seattle, and his interceptor sighted the aggressor aircraft at 41,000 feet.

Svane attacked. Three Falcon air-to-air missiles shot from the interceptor toward the target. One of them hit the tail of the plane, and the jet headed earthward. Its two crewmen bailed out.

Unfortunately, the enemy was a T33 Air Force trainer and Svane's attack was a routine practice maneuver. Routine, that is, until the three missiles, which automatically seek their targets and explode if they miss, were discharged.

The trainer's crew, 1st Lt. John D. Rice, 27, Sacramento, Calif., and 1st Lt. Raymond Zuhars Jr., 26, Evansville, Ind., escaped with cuts and bruises. They landed on a farm near Clinton, Mo.

Marting Pleading Held 'Sham, Frivolous' by Judge Case

Court Strikes School Suit

One of two suits which blocked final sale of the $1,652,500 Miami Trace School District Building bond issue was dismissed in Common Pleas Court Thursday morning as a "frivolous, vexatious and sham pleading."

In an 11-page entry, Judge John P. Case ordered a petition filed by Sam B. Marting, Concord Township, stricken from the records with prejudice to any further action — which means that another case based on the same allegations contained in Marting's pleading will not be considered by the court.

On July 10, the day the Miami Trace bonds were to be sold after a delay of nearly two years, Marting brought suit against the district board members as individuals and asked that they be restrained from completing the transaction.

At the same time Mrs. C. Elton Rhoad, Mrs. Martha P. Scott and Mrs. Roxanna T. Abbott brought a mandamus action in the Second District Court for the same purpose. No court orders have been issued, although the fact that the rural board remained in litigation prevented delivery of the bonds, even though a last-minute compromise between the board and the litigants was attempted.

COUNSEL for the school board filed motions on Aug. 9 asking dismissal of both suits on grounds that they were designed as delaying actions and were without merit. The motion addressed to Common Pleas Court asked that Marting's entire petition be stricken, or that each of five separate causes of action stated in the pleading be dismissed.

At the same time, the motion asked that the Board of Education of the Miami Trace Local School District be made party defendant as a corporate body and the individual board members—Taylor Groff, J. Herbert Perrill, Gordon Cowdery, Robert T. Owens and Richard S. Snyder — as well as Mrs. Senath Thompson, clerk, be dismissed as defendants.

Judge Case, in his order today, sustained both motions, citing an appellate court decision that actions against school boards must be brought against such bodies in their corporate capacities rather than against members as individuals, and referring to a Supreme Court ruling that "a court has no authority to control the discretion vested in a board of education by the statutes of this state, or to substitute its judgment for the judgment of such board upon any question it (the board) is authorized by law to determine."

The court entry takes up each of the five causes of action stated by Marting's pleading and outlines the court's reasons for dismissal "(after) giving thereto a liberal construction most favorable to the plaintiff."

Miami Trace Returns Bonding House Check

The Miami Trace Board of Education Wednesday night returned, "with regret", a $16,525 certified check deposited by J. A. White and Co. Cincinnati, one of the three bonding houses which on July 10, submitted the successful bid on the school district's building bond issue.

Completion of the bond sale was blocked by litigation at the time clause in connection with the bids has now expired.

The board also confirmed and entered on its minutes a letter from one of its attorneys, Richard C. Addison, of Columbus, summarizing a conference between board members and litigants which was called by White in an unsuccessful effort to compromise differences and permit the bond sale to be consummated.

ADDISON'S LETTER said:

"In answer to your inquiry concerning the results of the attempted settlement of the Bond Issue litigation proposed by Mr. J. Austin White of the J. A. White & Co. on Aug. 7, 1958, we submit the following:

"You are familiar with the details of the proposed settlement, as you were present at the meeting in the Chamber of Commerce Meeting Room at Washington C. H. You will recall that Mrs. Rhoad would not accept the proposal unless she submitted it to the group which she claimed to represent and Mr. Marting stated likewise. On Aug. 8, 1958, we were advised by Mr. Griffith, counsel for Mr. Marting and Mrs. Rhoad, that the proposal would not be submitted to their group until Thursday, Aug. 14, 1958. The deadline for the delivery of the bonds was Aug. 20. This left us four working days to complete the issuance, sale and printing of the bonds even if these groups accepted the proposed settlement, during their alleged leaders approved. During the week from Aug. 8 to Aug. 14 and after numerous conferences, I prepared a journal entry in the bond case which had the approval of bond counsel and would have accomplished the terms of the settlement."

"Upon submission of this journal entry to counsel for the plaintiffs, it was not acceptable. The attorney for Mrs. Rhoad and Mr. Marting submitted to me his version of the journal entry which was substantially the same except that it required the maintenance of the lawsuit. This condition was not acceptable to bond counsel who are

IN CONNECTION with Marting's assertion that he believes the Miami Trace board has failed to comply with requirements of the Ohio Uniform Bond Act although, he alleged the clerk refused to allow inspection of the records, Judge Case said: "It cannot be reasonably inferred from the face of his petition that plaintiff made any attempt to inspect such public records as provided by law or was refused such inspection."

Marting, in his second cause of action, claimed the bond proceedings were invalid because at the time of voting on the bonds a petition was on file asking creation of a Citizens Committee, and that the board and the county superintendent avoided their duties until they were compelled to comply with the Citizens Committee law.

The court entry points out that any entry of the Probate Court (in which the Citizens Committee case was tried) is not now reviewable and cannot be considered by Common Pleas Court in the present instance, but Judge Case cites in full the Supreme Court opinion in the Miami Trace case which held that the limited powers of a Citizens Committee do not hold in abeyance or restrict the authority of a board of education to issue bonds.

Judge Case termed the allegations contained in this section of Marting's petition "an unbelievable (Please Turn to Page Two)

Kids Too Good At Running Sale

CHICAGO (AP)—Ralph Simons' stuffed animals were selling like crazy. The trouble was he wasn't selling them.

Simons, a carnival concessionaire, was asleep at home during the sale Wednesday.

Youngsters found the animals in his parked car and promptly sold 30 of them. The hottest item appeared to be small pandas—going price 50 cents.

Simons later told police each doll, panda and teddy bear cost him $4.

"I'd buy them back at $2 each," he said, "no questions asked."

New Fight Looms over Curbs on Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—New fights over Supreme Court bills and other unfinished legislation confronted Congress today as leaders clung to hopes for winding up the current session this week-end.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas set Saturday night as the target for adjournment.

But a big pile of work still lay ahead — the bulk of it with the Senate.

Today, for the third day in a row, the Senate considered legislation aimed at lessening the effect of recent Supreme Court decisions.

Opponents Wednesday night lost a move to quash debate on a measure designed to prevent state laws from being ruled invalid because they parallel federal acts. A move to table the bill, which is similar to one passed by the House, failed 46-39.

Ohio Sens. Frank J. Lausche (D) and John W. Bricker (R) split when the Senate voted to table the Butler-Jenner amendment designed to curb the review powers of the Supreme Court. Lausche voted for the motion to table and Bricker voted against it.

Earlier, the Senate killed by a 49-41 vote a bill to curb the review powers of the Supreme Court and to undo the effects of several rulings in Communist cases.

Should the Senate clear the decks of the court bills, Johnson said he hoped to move on today to consideration of the foreign aid money bill and a measure to hike the national debt ceiling from 280 to 288 billion dollars.

Johnson listed a dozen pieces of legislation which he said the Senate must act on before quitting for the year.

Nevertheless, he told the Senate, "We hope to get out of here Saturday night." It was the first time he had set an adjournment goal.

But a new snarl developed when the Senate and House differed on how much control Congress should exercise over the new civilian space agency.

The Senate, by an 86-0 count, insisted on keeping its provision to require that the agency obtain congressional consent each year for its programs. The House, by a 236-126 vote, rejected the Senate provision, which had been tacked onto a compromise $3,694,805,478 appropriations bill covering a variety of federal programs.

The Senate requested a new conference with the House in an effort to break the deadlock.

There were about 125 differences between the House and Senate in amendments to the appropriations measure, but all were resolved except the one dealing with the space agency.

The House accepted without dissent a Senate amendment to bar spending any money for studies of a possible American surrender in an atomic war. The subject touched off heated debate in the Senate last week after reports circulated that such studies had been undertaken. President Eisenhower called the furor nonsense.

The House turned again today to legislation to authorize government subsidies and price supports for Western minerals. A vote, expected Wednesday, was put off for a day.

A bill to permit the United States to help West Europe undertake a peaceful program of atomic energy uses cleared the House and went to the White House. The passage was by voice vote.

At the same time, the House approved a resolution okaying the Euratom agreement signed by the United States at Brussels last May. The Senate had previously given its approval to the agreement, which embraces France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Attorneys for the seven Negroes have urged the Circuit Court to make the ruling effective at once so the Negroes can be admitted when school starts.

7 Judges Agree To Allow Time For High Appeal

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The 8th Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals today granted a stay today to its decision which would return seven Negro students to Central High School at Little Rock.

Chief Justice Archibald K. Gardner announced from his home at Huron, S. D., that the seven-judge court had agreed to grant the stay.

Gardner, who wrote the only dissent in the 6-1 decision that overturned U. S. District Court Judge Harry J. Lemley's 2½-year breather order, said the stay was granted so the Little Rock School Board could appeal to the Supreme Court.

The clerk of the appeals court, Robert Tucker, said a motion filed by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and the attorney for the Negro students would be denied. This motion asked that the appeals court issue its mandate on its decision reversing Judge Lemley immediately.

The NAACP had said that Judge Lemley's order would still be in effect when school starts Sept. 2 at Little Rock if the mandate wasn't issued immediately.

Judge Gardner said that the seven judges of the Circuit Court had previously agreed to the delay which was asked this morning in an application filed by the board.

The court action came as Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus alerted the state legislature for a special session starting Monday to deal with the explosive Central High School integration situation.

Thus it appeared that the Little Rock School Board failed Wednesday night to convince the governor it was doing all possible to delay re-entry of seven Negroes into the sprawling high school.

Mob riots broke out last fall when nine Negroes first entered the high school, and President Eisenhower sent paratroopers to restore order with bayonets.

Telegrams signed by Faubus went out today to the 100 House members and 35 state senators. The telegrams said that "you are requested to be prepared for a special session of the Legislature beginning Monday, Aug. 25, 1958. It is not yet definite and certain that the call will be made but it is most likely."

The legislators presumably would be presented with bills aimed at halting integration. A pupil assignment law already is on the books, but the board has not used it.

The governor met with the school board and the superintendent for almost two hours Wednesday night, and in a later press conference refused to say what was discussed.

School Supt. Virgil Blossom Wednesday night announced the board has petitioned the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for a stay of its Monday order. This order called for continued integration at Central High.

The Circuit Court reversed a decision by U.S. Dist. Judge Harry Lemley, who earlier ruled the board could delay integration for 2½ years.

The petition for a stay is aimed at delay until the board can place the question before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Speculation on what the Legislature can do includes passage of bills withdrawing state aid from any integrated school, or giving the governor power to close Central High, among others.

Attorneys for the seven Negroes have urged the Circuit Court to make the ruling effective at once so the Negroes can be admitted when school starts.

Boy Badly Hurt In Haymow Fall

Skull Fractured,
Condition 'Fair'

An 8-year-old boy was hurt seriously Wednesday afternoon when he fell 12 feet from a haymow onto a cement floor, landing on his head.

Bruce Shipley, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Shipley, Staunton, was reported in "fair" condition at Memorial Hospital late Thursday morning.

The boy suffered a fractured skull, a brain injury and a dislocated shoulder. His mother said he may have to be taken to a Columbus hospital for an operation.

Details of the accident are unknown. Mrs. Shipley said that Bruce was in the barn by himself and that he must have started to climb down from the haymow when he slipped and fell. Why he was in the haymow, Mrs. Shipley said she did not know.

The Shipleys live on a farm just outside Staunton. Bruce was brought to the hospital in the Kirkpatrick ambulance.

School Suit Dismissed

combination of unrelated, irrelevant, immaterial and meaningless statements which are so fantastic that they not only reflect serious discredit upon the pleader and the legal profession but also demonstrate an unwarranted contempt for the intelligence of this original court and for any reviewing court."

AS A THIRD cause of action, the suit had attacked the validity of any lien on the newly transferred New Holland district resulting from sale of the bonds.

On this point the court noted that the plaintiff admits that the board can take any further action as may be necessary to cause the bond issue to be a valid lien and resultant taxes to be a proper levy, and that the petition fails to allege that the board has refused or failed to act according to law.

The plaintiff's fourth cause of action, questioning the validity of liens on property in areas recently annexed from Miami Trace District to the Washington C. H. City School District, is dismissed on grounds that the issues raised are "speculative, imaginative, conjectural and devoid of concrete and concise statements of fact necessary for a cause of action."

The fifth cause of action brought up the imminence of a school survey, the allegation that Miami Trace building plans call for a high school building in close proximity to the city, causing transportation problems and that a building on the site selected would endanger the city by polluting its water supply.

Marting also claimed that issuance of the bonds and construction of a new school would be an expensive abuse of the board's discretion during the pendency of a survey and held that the defendants should be restrained from doing so.

JUDGE CASE commented that "the plaintiff does not allege any operative facts to show how or why such a survey, so initiated by said State Board of Education, takes from the defendant board of education its authority to issue the bonds in question."

Again the entry cites a rule of law pronounced by the Supreme Court of Ohio: "The proposition is well settled that when an instrumentality of government is vested with discretion and such discretion is exercised in good faith and in a lawful manner, it should not be interfered with or controlled by the courts."

Judge Case's entry then continues: "The plaintiff's petition is devoid of allegations of operative facts showing how and in what manner defendant board is exercising its discretion in bad faith or any unlawful manner upon any question it is authorized by law to determine. . . Plaintiff merely sets forth fantastic conclusions and inferences."

"Petition shows on its face that it was not filed in good faith."

Marting may now ask for a rehearing of his petition, he may file a motion asking that the court's order sustaining the Miami Trace motion be vacated or he may appeal to a higher court.

Ohioan Arrested On Bad Check Rap

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — A Steubenville, Ohio, man wanted in that state for parole violation has been arrested here and accused of cashing fraudulent checks. It's the same charge for which he served three years of a 1-20 year sentence in Ohio.

Wilbert John Meyer, 33, was picked up by police Wednesday and turned over to federal authorities after he tried unsuccessfully to cash a check at a store.

Police said he printed fraudulent payroll checks and cashed them in a nine-state spending spree. Checks in his possession were facsimiles of payroll checks issued by Trans World Airlines and the International Business Machines Corp., police added.

Solons Cool On Any New Labor Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor legislation showed no signs of life today despite President Eisenhower's attempt to goad Congress into passing such a bill before adjournment.

It was hard to find any senator or representative who believed a labor bill could be pushed through in these final days of the session.

In a special statement Wednesday, Eisenhower expressed disappointment "that the Congress has thus far failed to enact legislation to curb the racketeering, corruption and abuses of trust and power" which he said the Senate Rackets Committee has found in the labor-management field.

"I still hope that before adjournment the Congress will pass a labor bill which will effectively protect the working men and women of our country," Eisenhower added.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell also made an appeal for action before Congress goes home, perhaps this weekend.

But Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana, a House Republican leader, said in an interview: "I'm afraid under the circumstances nothing will be done."

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) had no comment on the Eisenhower-Mitchell appeals. Neither did Chairman Graham Barden (D-NC) of the House Labor Committee.

Bond Check Returned

required to disapprove the bond issue if any litigation exists affecting its validity.

"Upon being advised of this fact, Mr. Griffith advised me that the Marting group would not go through with the proposed settlement and it would not be submitted to their group for their consideration."

"I feel that your board conceded every possible point, despite these apparent studied delays, to accomplish this settlement in the public interest and every effort was exhausted by the Miami Trace Board to accomplish the desired end for the benefit of those who had voted the bond issue to improve the county school system."

"It is regrettable that this litigation must continue to impede school development in your county because of the refusal of the two people to concede the one thing which would have accomplished both their avowed desires and the board's public obligation."

"We have no other alternative except to pursue this litigation to its final conclusion in the Courts, which we are now prepared to do."

WHITE'S LETTER requesting return of his check reviewed the terms of the unsuccessful settlement which would have provided that litigation preventing delivery of the bonds be dismissed and that the bonds be sold, but no money to be spent until the survey authorized by the State Department of Education is completed and final action taken on its recommendations.

White then said: "Unfortunately the carrying out of this agreement fell through because of a difference of opinion as to means for enforcing the agreement, the litigants maintaining that there must be a court injunction restraining the spending of the money."

"Messrs. Squire, Sanders and Dempsey (the Miami Trace bond counsel) (held) that they could not render an unqualified approving opinion on the legality of the bonds if the court would issue such an injunction because the injunction would at least infer that there was in the opinion of the court some legal basis for the granting of the injunction against the spending of the money, and this would infer that there was some question as to the legality of the bonds, perhaps, for example, that they were being issued for illegal purposes. While Messrs. Squire, Sanders and Dempsey of course feel that there is no question as to the legality of the bonds, they do feel that a court injunction against the spending of the money throws a cloud on the bonds because, in their opinion, one would naturally ask on what legal grounds could the court grant such an injunction."

WHITE POINTS out that the bond counsel found no fault with the agreement not to spend the money until the survey was completed and acted upon, but that his insistence upon an actual court injunction prevented delivery.

White's letter concludes: "We regret our inability to underwrite these bonds, not only because of the considerable expense to which we have gone in our efforts to underwrite them, but also because it appears that the failure to effect the agreement reached

State Judges Critical of Highest Court

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Recent Supreme Court decisions raise doubt that America has a government of laws and not of men, chief justices of nine states allege.

They accuse the nation's highest court of assuming the role of policy maker without proper judicial restraint.

The justices, representing both Northern and Southern states, presented the 36-page report Wednesday to the annual Conference of Chief Justices. Delegates are present from the 48 states, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

A resolution offered with the report urged the Supreme Court to exercise judicial self-restraint in differentiating between constitutional rights and powers on the one hand and local self government on the other.

The report said in part: "It has long been an American boast that we have a government of laws, not of men. We believe that any study of recent decisions of the Supreme Court will raise at least considerable doubt as to the validity of that boast."

"We find that in constitutional cases unanimous decisions are comparative rarities, and the multiple opinions . . . are common occurrences. We find next that divisions on a 5-4 basis are quite frequent."

The report's conclusions were based on cases involving the 14th amendment, which safeguards civil rights.

Pacifists Handed Maximum Fines

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Two pacifists received maximum fines Wednesday for attempting to halt construction of an Atlas missile launching installation near here.

Fines of $100 and costs were assessed against the Rev. Mr. Theodore Olson, 26, of Fallsburg, Pa., and Eleanor Calkins, 22, of Chicago by Justice of the Peace Tosh Suyematsu. They were charged with trespassing.

Olson also was fined $20 and sentenced to two days in jail when Suyematsu found him in contempt of court for saying he would continue resistance action at the missile base.

Rocket Engine Tests Curtailed

DENVILLE, N.J. (AP) — Reaction Motors Inc. has bowed to complaints by local residents and halted round-the-clock test on a rocket engine designed for the first manned space vehicle.

Some 150 residents of the Hibernia and Lake Telemark areas petitioned the company, saying they did not want to appear unpatriotic but complaining the noise and vibration caused physical discomfort and property damage.

Reaction Motors agreed to restrict major tests on the engine, the X15, to the hours from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

will result in further long drawn out litigation that will prevent the school district from an interminable time from issuing the bonds and providing the school facilities that are apparently needed in Fayette County."

Oils, Coppers Lead Advance By Stocks

NEW YORK (AP) — Oils and coppers paced a stock market advance in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

Leading issues rose from fractions to about a point.

News that Kennecott is expanding production from a five-day to a six-day week spurred the copper shares to gains of a point or better.

Oils were higher from the start. The boost in the allowable Texas oil, production continued a help to oil stocks.

Steels, motors, rubbers, chemicals, rails and tobaccos also showed plus signs. Aircrafts backed down a bit. Drugs were mixed.

Texas Co., Getty Oil and Gulf Oil ran up more than a point apiece. Royal Dutch and Standard Oil (New Jersey) were about a point to the good.

Kennecott advanced past a point. Phelps Dodge and International Nickel rose around a point each.

Chesapeake & Ohio and Southern Pacific rose about a point.

Goodrich jumped about two and Lorillard recovered a point or so of its 2½-point loss taken Wednesday.

High-priced A & P added another eight or nine points in continued response to published opinions that it may sell its voting shares to the public. There is no voting power in the stock currently traded.

U.S. government bonds were narrowly mixed.

Union Chiefs Gloomy about U. S. Economy

FOREST PARK, Pa. (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders said today there may be prosperity again on Wall Street but for unemployed millions the recession remains a stark reality.

The labor union chiefs took a gloomy view of the nation's economic outlook particularly because of what they said is a return by President Eisenhower's administration to a tight money policy.

Statements approved by the AFL-CIO leaders criticized a recent Federal Reserve Board action pointing toward higher interest rates. They said increased interest rates may plunge the economy into a sharp new decline. Council, meeting here, predicted continuing heavy unemployment for the next 12 to 18 months. Unemployment totaled 5,300,000 in July, or 7.3 per cent of the labor force.

"The unemployed cannot live on graphs of slowly rising output that make Wall Street investors happy," the AFL-CIO leaders said.

The Council Wednesday ordered the International Union of Operating Engineers, target of Senate Rackets Committee corruption charges, to carry out reforms in its Newark, Philadelphia, Chicago and Long Island, N. Y., locals. The union also was ordered to seek recovery of allegedly misappropriated union funds from its former president, William E. Maloney.

Crash Near Napoleon Fatal to 2 Persons

NAPOLEON, Ohio (AP)—A two-car collision Wednesday night killed two persons and seriously injured three others on U. S. 24, ten miles east of here.

The dead are William H. Ranzau, 24, of Holland, Ohio, and Karen Cameron, 8, of Ridgeville Corners, Ohio.

Taken to Heller Memorial Hospital here, were Robert E. McGuire, 38, of Toledo; Miss Ladonna Wroblewski, 42, Napoleon, and Judy Cameron, 6, sister of the dead girl.

Greeks Alerted For 'Great Battle'

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Leaflets were scattered in Nicosia streets today calling on Greek Cypriots to be ready for the "great battle" against the new British plan for Cyprus.

The leaflet was signed by EOKA, Greek Cypriot underground.

The British proposed a seven-year period of modified home rule for the Greek majority and the Turkish minority on this British crown colony.

The Greek Cypriots want union with Greece. The Turkish Cypriots want partition to protect their minority status if there is any change.

Court Fight Looms over Ballot Label

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A court fight may be shaping up here over the use of three words on the Nov. 4 election ballot.

The words are "right to work" and appear in a proposed constitutional amendment to ban the union shop in Ohio.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown approved ballot forms Wednesday. The forms must be printed by county election boards by Sept. 5 for Ohio members of the armed forces and for civilians outside the United States.

United Organized Labor of Ohio, an organization formed by unions to oppose the anti-union shop proposal, objects to the words "right to work" on grounds they are misleading. The group has threatened court action to block their use.

A spokesman for the labor organization said a decision on any court action would come soon.

The proposed amendment reads in part: "No employer or labor organization shall deny or abridge the right to work by requiring membership or non-membership in, or payment or non-payment of money to, a labor organization as a condition of employment or continued employment in this state."

A Farmer's Views on Subsidies

Just the other day we heard a Fayette County farmer, and a successful one, make the statement that many non-farm people think that practically all farmers are in favor of farm subsidies and the government's other aids to agriculture. But that this is not the case.

He asserted that during several past years "the men who know farming best are not nearly so keen for federal subsidies as are a lot of our farm - bloc congressmen who think of subsidies as vote-getters."

This sounded a little surprising to those of us who were listening to this farmer talk and we asked him on what he based his statement.

He replied that in addition to his talks with numerous high caliber farmers, he had noted the results of polls by farm publications. He called attention to the poll which Farm Journal, a leading monthly farm publication conducted among its readers. This survey found that about half the American farmers contacted had expressed a desire to see the government get entirely out of agriculture— "Lock, stock and subsidy." Another 11 per cent indicated that less government aid than at present would be better for agriculture as a whole.

This farm in making these comments asserted that this poll result was not as surprising as it would seem to most people. He pointed out that the government subsidies are limited to the six so-called basic crops; therefore many farmers actually get no aid at all. He contended that the subsidy program had been of greatest financial benefit to the big corporation - type farms, rather than the family farms.

He pointed out that over the years some of the most important farm products have been produced and sold strictly in a free supply - and - demand market. He said that meat has been an outstanding example; that it is the largest source of cash to farmers, and can be produced on farms in all parts of the country and on farms of every size.

He remarked that the livestock producers have had plenty of downs as well as ups, but they have always opposed government control, subsidy and intervention.

"All in all," this farmer observed, "livestock producers have done well, season in and season out, not only financially but in keeping their freedom and independence."

No Discomforts in Sahara

By ANDREW BOROWIEC
(For Hal Boyle)

HASSI MESSAOU, Algeria (AP)—Some 3,000 men live and work in the heart of the Sahara without suffering many of the hazards and discomforts of desert life.

Their major problem is lack of women.

The men are employees of French oil companies building what they hope is a future French oil empire amid sun-baked sand dunes.

They live in air-conditioned huts with running water, showers, and plugs for electric razors. They are served five-course meals in air-conditioned dining rooms. Their bars offer a variety of French and foreign drinks—at a fraction of the normal price.

Every day planes land on airstrips in the middle of the desert with mail and newspapers.

The wages of the men of Hassi Messaoud oil site are on the average twice as high as those of comparable workers in France. Their lodging costs nothing and their food costs about $15 a month.

One of the oil companies estimated that in addition to salary and initial investment in living quarters, each man costs it $14 a day.

The workers also receive special bonuses. In summer, when the outside temperature reaches 125 degrees Fahrenheit, the bonuses are the highest.

Every three weeks, the men of the Hassi Messaoud site are transported by plane — free — for a week's rest in Algiers, 500 miles away. Those who want to go to France must pay their own way.

Ninety per cent of the workers are French citizens — of whom two-thirds are Moslems. About 7 per cent are ex-Foreign Legion members and about 3 per cent are skilled foreign technicians.

The site is linked with the oasis of Ouargla—some 60 miles north—by a recently built concrete road. Heavy trucks roll over the road while camels plod through the sands nearby.

Most of the old-timers are proud of making it into an oil town.

None of the oil companies, however, has managed to solve the most acute problem — lack of women. The site is still not ready to install family dwellings, and anyway the added cost frightens the firms.

Said an ex-Foreign Legionnaire:

"It is the third week here that always seems the longest. And then your week in Algiers seems like a day and you're back here for another three weeks, thinking of your next leave. That's our life."

The Patterns of Mankind

What is happening before our eyes are not only gigantic political and social changes but a restoration of the controlled human mind which is so characteristic of primitive society.

It is like a conductor standing on a podium, directing an orchestra; he indicates a quiet, slow movement for the violins and so it is; he flails his arms, screws up his face, purses his lips, and the orchestra plays to a roof-shaking excitement.

Everybody has seen motion pictures portraying natives in Africa or in South America getting up an excitement before performing some ritualistic act, with the tom-tom beating away, with everybody singing and shaking their bodies in unison. I have often wondered when I looked at such pictures what would happen if a body shook the wrong way. Would they kill and eat the savage?

Today, such men as Khrushchev and Nasser and Mao, and there are others, beat the brains of men into a stilted conformity. There is a song of hate, eternal, unforgiving, relentless hate.

While the targets of hatred are not always the same, they maintain a steady tom-tom over the radio. In the Arab countries, it works itself into a will to kill. Nasser's radio is an assassination stimulant.

This beating of thoughts into the minds of men by radio becomes even more dangerous in Western countries where human beings have accustomed themselves to believe that they think for themselves. The repetition of word images, like the jingles in commercials on television, has the effect of making men believe that something is so which might not be so.

How many times have you heard the phrase, "atomic age"? In this atomic age," thunders the orator. So what? Do people not love? Are children not being born? Do we have three eyes instead of two? Precisely how has "this atomic age" affected man, his conduct, his habits, his morals, his ordinary relationships?

Last year, it was the "atomic age." This year it is the "space age." Maybe next year, it will be the "moon age."

But men are still honest or avaricious, truthful or liars, learned or mentally blocked, smart or dumb, with gradations in between.

These word images, however, fasten themselves to our memories and we live not with the realities but with the images. In time, we actually believe that one kind of aspirin does more than another kind, or that one detergent is superior to another. But which one and why?

When men stop asking why, they stop being civilized. When they sit comfortably in a soft chair, a tray of barbecued spare - ribs before them, with a glass of what is called beer to add zest, watching a female sell a cigarette or a cosmetic, and believing every word of it or "how could she dare say it," then we are back to the tom - tom.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, in correspondence with a publisher about an article he did not like, wrote: "... He, (the author) ignores the fact that many union members are forced to join unions because of union shop agreements. I have always felt that the use of union funds collected under these circumstances for political purposes constitutes a denial of freedom of political activity and is morally objectionable. Even where union membership is not compulsory, social pressures are often so strong that only the most rugged individualists can resist pressures leveled against them."

What Sen. Goldwater objects to is mass coercion, another curse of our times, although it is not quite as bad as the tom - tom. Some call it conformity, which is a bad word, because some persons may enjoy external conformity, such as dressing for dinner, or not picking their teeth at the table, or perhaps saying, "thank you!" when one should. One can easily accept a code of manners while rejecting an enslavement of the mind.

Too many of us are forced to join groups and to accept group action, group authority. This is an inevitable aftermath of wars, but it is about time that free men rebelled against mass coercion.

When a student tells me that he lies on examination papers because

Diet and Health

Need for Vitamin C Grows with the Years

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

WHILE we should eat plenty of fruits throughout our lives, they become especially important as we grow older.

As you advance in years, your need for Vitamin C becomes greater. Vitamin C is essential to help keep your tissues strong and healthy, to prevent tender gums and to ward off infections.

Slows Convalescence

Convalescence often slows down considerably with aging, and here again Vitamin C is extremely important, since it hastens the healing process.

Now your body uses this needed vitamin very rapidly. It needs a fresh supply every day. You can get an ample supply simply by eating plenty of fruits, especially citrus fruits.

All citrus fruits, such as oranges and grapefruit, are rich in Vitamin C. They can be fresh or canned, whole or juice. Tomatoes also are good, especially the vine-ripened kind. Again, the tomatoes can be fresh, canned or in juice form.

Amount Needed

Just one-half cup of citrus juice or a full cup of tomato juice each day will give you all the Vitamin C you need.

The other fresh fruits, such as pears, apples and bananas, contain some Vitamin C, but in lesser amounts. While they can't take the place of citrus fruits in your diet, they can be used to add variety to your meals or they can be eaten between meals.

Canned and dried non-citrus fruits contain little if any Vitamin C. That doesn't mean that you should not eat them, of course, since they are valuable in providing other vitamins and minerals which aid digestion and help prevent constipation.

B Vitamins Important

As you grow older, you also will need more of the B Vitamins, iron, and especially protein, for the building and repair of body tissues. You can find all three in meat, fish and poultry.

I don't know whether you like liver, kidney and heart, but these foods are extremely rich in these factors. If you don't eat them now, I suggest you get started right away.

Serve Liver Often

In fact, as a rule, liver should be served once a week, or at least several times a month. It is the best food we know of for building red blood.

You don't have to eat meat, fish or poultry every day. Once in a while you can substitute baked beans, split pea soup, cottage cheese or even peanut butter. All of them are good sources of protein.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

L. S.: My womb is in the wrong position and is pushed back on to my back. Will it require surgery to correct this?

Answer: Most cases require surgery, particularly if backache, stomach pains, painful menstruation and severe discharge are present.

Better consult your doctor. He knows best.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A TOUGH OLD mountaineer had been missing for five days, and his wife finally decided to look for him. She found him in a thick clump of bushes, looking rather peaked. "Supper time, paw," she ventured. "Yep," he agreed. "Well, then," she continued, "ain't ye comin' home?" "Nope," said he. "Why not?" "Becuz," he said with finality, "I'm standin' in a bear trap."

A minister, strolling through a crowded neighborhood in Brooklyn, came upon a circle of gesticulating boys, with a puppy in the center.

"What are you doing with that dog?" asked the minister. "It's a game of ours," answered one gamin. "We're going to give it to the guy who tells the biggest lie —"

"Outrageous!" cut in the clergyman. "When I was your age, I never told a lie —"

"That's it!" exclaimed the youngster. "Give the gent the dog, fellers!"

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor reform—and what Congress failed to do about it—is now a full-blown campaign issue in the 1958 congressional elections.

Democrats and Republicans will blame each other for what didn't come to pass. But the fact is neither side looks pretty in this one.

President Eisenhower has already rushed to the defense of his Republicans with a statement Wednesday. This is how it started and ended:

Last January Eisenhower proposed—as a result of disclosures by the Senate Rackets Committee—a 12-point labor reform program.

The Democratic-run Senate on June 17 passed its own bill which fell short of all Eisenhower wanted. It was sponsored by Senators Irving M. Ives (R-NY) and John F. Kennedy (D-Mass).

Republicans and Democrats teamed up to shove it through 88-1.

This bill sought to throttle racketeering by both unions and employers. It would have required detailed reports on union affairs and funds, along with reports by employers on how much money they spent on labor relations activities.

Further, it would have barred convicted crooks from holding union office, required secret ballot union elections for limited terms, and let union members sue to recover stolen union funds or property. And it would have made management representatives take a non-Communist oath, just as union leaders have to do.

Then the bill went over to the Democratic-run House. There the leader of the House Democrats, Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, bottled it up 41 days by keeping it on his desk. He finally sent it to the House Labor Committee for consideration July 29. Why the delay?

He explained: He didn't want to get it entangled with another piece of labor legislation the Labor Committee was considering.

But the House Labor Committee is run by Democrats. They didn't want any part of the Ives-Kennedy bill. In fact 16 of them, joined by six Republicans, voted against even considering the bill. The committee also voted against considering a Republican-backed substitute.

Finally, the bill was yanked out of the committee's hands and thrown before the full House for action. Under the special procedure used, they wouldn't be amended. It also required a two-thirds vote for passage.

But then the Republicans got in their licks. They closed ranks to kill the bill on the floor. A big majority of them, joined by some Democrats, voted to kill the bill. It was killed.

Yet a big majority of Democrats on the floor voted for the bill was a switch for their party since an overwhelming number of Democrats in the Labor Committee had voted against ever letting the bill see the light of day.

Sen. Ives was incensed at what happened in the House. He said he was ashamed of it. But he also said: "A lot of House members were misled by false propaganda by the National Assn. of Manufacturers, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the American Retail Federation, the Teamsters, and the United Mine Workers. Can you imagine a more unholy alliance?"

Kennedy also struck out at the NAM. That organization's president, Milton C. Lightner, said it was true his organization had opposed the bill but he denied NAM pressure killed it.

So everything was confused but warming up for a who-struck-John fight in the campaign when Eisenhower issued a statement Wednesday. He was highly critical of the Ives-Kennedy bill—although his Senate Republicans had voted overwhelmingly for it. He objected mostly on the grounds it didn't go far enough.

Then he proposed that Congress pass a labor reform bill to his liking before it quits this year. But Congress is only a few days away from quitting, and Eisenhower must know—since everyone else does—no other bill has a chance this year.

Ike Vetoes Bill To Hike Tariff on Some Seed Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has vetoed a bill which would have increased the tariff on certain seed wheat.

In rejecting the measure, Eisenhower said it would violate an agreement with Canada.

He also called the bill "inimical to the trade policy of the United States, the interests of our farmers, and our relations with Canada."

The bill would have hiked the duty on seed wheat treated with poisonous substances which serve to prevent wheat diseases and discourage insect damage to crops.

Virtually all such seed wheat entering the United States comes from Canada.

The current duty is 5 per cent of the value or about 10 cents a bushel at current prices, as compared with 21 cents a bushel on all other imported wheat.

The bill Eisenhower vetoed would have made treated wheat seed subject to the higher tariff.

Luncheon Enjoyed Blakeley-Newman Vows Exchanged By Garden Club In Winter Park Methodist Church In Rife Home

The August meeting of the Mari-lee Garden Club was highlighted with a noon luncheon in the home of Mrs. Everett Rife.

The business session was opened with a poem by Mrs. Frank Lan-um, club president.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were given by Mrs. Glen Smith, who also read a letter thanking the club for the Victor Reis Fund.

A discussion was held on the state convention to be held at Bowling Green Sept. 10-11.

The program was presented by Mrs. Wash Lough, who used as her topic "The Mallow Family."

In her presentation Mrs. Lough stated that "the Mallow is a large family (about 1,000 species) mostly tropical shrubs and trees, but of considerable garden, and much more economic interest for it contains both cotton, the roselle, a tropical food plant of some importance, and the okra." "It is an easy family to identify for all the garden plants have the main veins of the leaf arising at or near the base of the blade and spreading fan-fashion from the center," she said.

Mrs. Lough commented that the "dwarf mallow is found in the eastern states, cheese mallow along the roadside, yellow false mallow on dry rocky hillsides and poppy mallow in dry woods."

Mrs. Lough closed by saying "the most common mallows are the hollyhocks, rose of Sharon and hibiscus."

MRS. JAMES BILLY NEWMAN

Miss Susan Lynn Blakeley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Blakeley, former residents of Washington C. H. now living in Winter Park, Fla., and Mr. James Billy Newman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norton A. Goff, Plymouth, Fla., were united in marriage Friday, July 11, at a 7:30 p. m. candlelight service in Winter Park Methodist Church.

The new Mrs. Newman is a niece of Mrs. Robert Armstrong, Route 1, Washington.

The Rev. Kenneth G. Rogers of Gainesville, Fla., officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

A half hour program of nuptial organ music, played by Miss Nancy Call of Winter Park, Fla., preceded the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown designed with a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace, fashioned with a scooped neckline and long tapering sleeves. The very full princess skirt of peau de faille terminated in a chapel train below a butterfly bustle. A Chantilly lace pillbox hat held her elbow-length veil of silk illusion. She carried a white prayer book topped with a shower of white roses and ivy.

A single strand of her mother's wedding pearls worn by the bride were complemented by cultured pearl earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Frances Bare of Winter Park, Fla., was Miss Blakeley's maid of honor. Miss Judy Erich, St. Louis, Mo., and Miss Linda Campbell, Columbus, both cousins of the bride, were bridesmaids.

Their ballerina-length gowns of taffeta faille were similar in design to that of the bride's. The honor attendant's gown was salmon colored while the bridesmaids' were yell w. They carried cascade bouquets of Talisman roses.

Mr. Jack de Noyelles served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Erich Blakeley, brother of the bride; Mr. Walter Carver and Mr. Charles Todd. Mr. Kent Blakeley, also a brother of the bride, was junior usher.

The mother of the bride chose an aqua lace dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

The groom's mother wore a pink eyelet dress with white accessories and her corsage was a single white orchid.

A reception was held in the Wesleyan Room of the church.

The bride's traveling dress was of powder blue linen with white accessories, and she wore the corsage from her wedding bouquet.

After a wedding trip to the West Coast, the couple are now in their new home at Forest City Estates in Forest City, Fla.

Miss Preston Honored with Bridal Shower

Miss Carolyn Crago, Miss Nancy Reno, Miss Wanda Tracey and Miss Sarah Core combined hospitalities to honor Miss Judith Ann Preston, whose marriage to Mr. Dale Coppock will be an event of Sept. 7, with a miscellaneous bridal shower in the home of Miss Crago's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Crago.

A green and white color scheme was used for the attractive decorations.

The bride-elect opened her lovely array of gifts under a white arch centered with silver wedding bells.

Clever contests were conducted by the hostesses, with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Richard Waters Jr. and Mrs. Russell Klontz.

A dessert course, further carrying out the green and white color scheme, was served by the hostesses.

The guest list included the Misses Linda Anderson, Wilma Brown, Mary Chakeres, Sandra Cook, Joan Jacobs, Nancy Hurtt, Pat Hunter, Ann Meriweather, Jean Persinger, Sandra Rose, Pat Scott, Pat Cutlip, Peggy Bandy, Susan Dray, Judy Smith, Sandy Stag, Sara Terhune, Susan Wissler, Jo Reiff and Pat Knedler, Mrs. Bill Dugan, Mrs. Joseph Provost, Mrs. Phil Grover, Mrs. Roger Stockwell, Mrs. Russell Klontz, Mrs. Delbert West, Mrs. Donald Coe, Mrs. Everett Clay, Mrs. Steve Allison, Mrs. Dale Horney, Mrs. Raymond Wissler, Mrs. Charles Crooks, Mrs. Richard Waters Jr., Mrs. William Walters, Mrs. David Coppock, Mrs. Thurman Coulter, Mrs. Jess Crago, Mrs. Oliver Tracey, Mrs. Frank Reno, Mrs. Otis B. Core and Mrs. Earl Keith and daughter, Donna Jean, all of Washington C. H.; Miss Carol Richardson, Dayton; and Mrs. Howard Keith and Mrs. Charles Keith of Jeffersonville.

Miss Fletcher Guest of Honor At Bridal Party

Mrs. Earl Rea entertained Tuesday night with a bridal shower in honor of Miss Marcia Fletcher, bride-elect of Mr. Wayne Baird, in the Good Hope Town Hall.

The gaily wrapped packages were placed on a table over which hung a green and yellow umbrella and streamers.

Guests were seated at long tables centered with beautiful arrangements of summer flowers donated by Mrs. Everett Rife and Mrs. Charles Goldsberry.

Two young guests, Kathy Kneisley and Susanne Naylor, assisted the guest of honor when she opened her lovely array of gifts.

Contests were enjoyed with prizes being won by Mrs. Joe Herbert, Mrs. Hugh Perrill, Mrs. James Hartley and Mrs. Coyt Anderson. They in turn presented them to the guest of honor.

A green and yellow color scheme was used in the dessert course served by Mrs. Rea.

Making up the guests list were Mrs. Maynard Mickle, Mrs. Harlan Baird, Mrs. Walter Haines, Miss Marilyn Schweitzer, Mrs. Harry Cunningham, Miss Mae Smith, Mrs. Loren C. LABOR-SAVING SOLUTION: Mom, up to her pretty neck in back-to-school chores on Labor Day, might consider encouraging Dad to get out the grill. The suggested menu: Barbecued chicken accompanied by corn on the cob and followed with watermelon.

That Grill Can Be A Real Labor Saver

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Food Editor

Around Labor Day, Mom's the busiest person in town.

She's lengthening all of Susie's dresses — small fry having a way of sprouting up during the summer. She's taking Johnny shopping for new shoes — and trying to get him to say which pair really fits.

She's searching out last year's pencil boxes and half-filled note books and persuading her back-to-school set these important accessories are still usable.

In between she's getting Dad's winter suits and the family's heavy coats out of storage.

And of course warm-weather slip covers have to be taken off the living-room furniture, laundered and put away.

Make-It-Yourself Sailing Outfit

SHIPSHAPE: This salty midgy and tight pants are made of white sailcloth from a standard pattern. Local sewing center experts suggest trimming sailor collar, armholes and midgy bottom with rows of narrow red or navy braid. Pants lace at knee.

That's just the moment she remembers she asked an old school chum and her family to supper on Labor Day.

IF SOMETHING like this happens to you, and you feel sunk, there's a way out. Encourage Dad to take over and produce the best cook-out of the season.

If Father is willing, we have a suggestion. Make up a batch (or more) of our savory new tomato sauce and order some tender young chickens so he can barbecue the birds over the outdoor grill.

We call this sauce new because it's our own concoction using one of our favorite canned products — stewed tomatoes.

Add corn on the cob to the menu, and another pick-up-in-your-hand item — celery (or endive if you can get it) stuffed with a mixture of cream cheese and Roquefort. Watermelon will fill the dessert bill if you decide to rely on the chance of visiting friends bringing a box of cookies or candy.

NEW TOMATO SAUCE FOR GRILLED CHICKEN

Ingredients: 1 can (1 pound) stewed tomatoes, 2 tablespoons salad oil, 2 tablespoons dark brown sugar, 2 tablespoons vinegar (any variety), 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, tabasco sauce (to taste), 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon chili powder, 1/2 teaspoon chili con carne seasoning (if desired), 1/2 teaspoon onion powder, 1/2 teaspoon celery salt, broiler-fryer chickens.

Method: Force tomatoes and their juice through a fine strainer with a wooden spoon so there is only a little residue and seeds to discard; or run until smooth in an electric blender. Add remaining ingredients, except chicken. Simmer sauce in a 1-quart saucepan, stirring often, for 20 minutes or until reduced to about 1 1/2 cups.

To Use on Outdoor Grill or Range Broiler: Halve, quarter or disjoint chickens. Brush inside surfaces with tomato sauce; grill or broil until half done and browned, brushing with more sauce during cooking. Turn skin side up, and repeat process. Chicken is done when drumstick may be twisted out of thigh joint easily.

Note: This sauce, as is, makes a pleasant accompaniment to rice when it is being served with grilled or broiled chicken. More vinegar may be added for a spicier sauce.

Hair Stylist Says 'Don't Be a Copycat'

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Beauty Editor

"We can't have on hairdos for everyone just because it happens to be flattering to the chemise look," says hairdresser V. George of Fifth Avenue, New York, commenting on the bubble cut coiffure, now all the rage, even in wig styles.

"Hairdressers must use a little more imagination," he says. "We must still design coiffures with an eye to individuality. Naturally hairdos will be varied because dress styles have changed, but a woman with a broad forehead, long nose or pointy chin still will need to have her particular coiffure adjusted to her features."

One of George's new hairdos is the trapeze, one example of a new hairdo for new fashions.

But it can't be worn by everyone, he reminds us. A nicely tailored hairdo, ideal for the old woman who does not want the tousled look, it has full bangs slightly waved across the forehead with the balance of the coiffure sleek but waved.

The hair at the sides of the head is turned away from the face at

Child's Night Terror Needs Investigation

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, MD

A terrified shriek pierced the 3 a. m. stillness. Another and another, each louder and more frantic than its predecessor. Mother was beside her 3-year-old as fast as it was possible to get there. Jerry was sitting up in his bed with a look of wild terror on his face. Mother picked him up, but he continued to scream. He was still asleep and unaware of his mother's presence. She took him to the bathroom, washed his agonized little face with cool water; finally he woke up, clutched his mother and quieted down.

To mother's bewildered question "Jerry, Jerry what's the matter?" Jerry answered not a word but tightened his hold around his mother's neck. Eventually his taut little body relaxed and he went back to sleep. Mother laid him in his bed and he slept until morning. Next day he remembered nothing of the night's doings.

The next night he repeated the performance, and the next and the next.

Jerry's parents were mystified. What was frightening their little boy? They wrangled their brains—was it the neighbor's dog who had been playing pretty roughly with the child? Didn't seem likely. Jerry seemed to enjoy the dog.

NIGHT terrors like Jerry's are a sign that there is some deep fear in the child, so deep that the child himself seldom knows what it is. He feels it but he doesn't understand it.

The almost universal cause of agonizing fear in a little child is fear of loss of parental love and protection. To be cast out into the world without the safety of tousled look, that has such strong appeal for the young, is a coiffure that looks simple, but in most cases it is designed for a softer, higher look, skillfully shaped to give height or width, depending on the head.

Hair is not really much longer this season, says George. He thinks that a length of 3 1/2 inches is just about right, and permits a hairdo to become convertible, easily recombined into another style at whim.

Hair coloring is growing in popularity, says George, because it is simpler:

"One can get a permanent wave today, immediately following a hair coloring, the whole project taking less than 2 1/2 hours."

the firm shield of protection from his parents throws a child into a pit of anxiety.

The fear is deep in the child's unconscious. It may or may not show in his waking life, but may burst all barriers of restraint when he is asleep and show itself in its primitive agonizing intensity as a night terror.

Even much-loved children, as Jerry most certainly was, can misinterpret the actions of their parents and develop such fears.

IN JERRY'S case it was the advent of a new baby sister which caused him his fears. All of a sudden he'd lost his place in the world. Neither mother nor daddy paid any attention to him. Mother was busy when he needed her, and brushed him off.

Daddy didn't play with him when he came home, he just went over and held the baby. Suddenly Jerry's world had fallen apart and he was afraid he'd been pushed out.

Of course he really hadn't been and as soon as he parents came to understand the nature of the little fellow's trouble they set out on a campaign to make him feel loved and as safe as he'd ever been.

12 Million To Get Relief From Inflation

$1 Billion a Year
More To Be Paid to Social Security List

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Some 12 million of inflation's worst victims are in line today for a little relief.

If President Eisenhower signs the social security bill into law, Uncle Sam will hand out about one billion dollars more next year to 12 million beneficiaries.

He will collect a little more than one billion dollars additional through higher taxes. Half the increase will be paid by the 75 million whose pay checks are docked for social security taxes, and the other half by their employers.

The increased benefits are designed to make up for some of the ravages of past inflation on the fixed incomes of the retired.

If new inflation pops up, as many in Washington fear, the battle will start all over again.

The big rise in the cost of living since the war has cramped persons beyond their earning years. They have found the nest egg they once thought ostrich size has shrunk to pigeon size.

The new benefits and the new taxes will still leave the social security system running in the red, as it started to do for the first time in the past year.

This year it is paying out nearly 8½ billion dollars in benefits and it is taking in 7½ billion dollars in taxes on the employed and their employers. Next year under the new bill payments would rise to 9½ billion and collections to a bit more than 8 billion.

The system has a large reserve fund on which to draw. But taxes will have to go up steadily from year to year if the higher payments are to be made and the reserve saved from too much drainage. Sponsors of the new bill say it should bring the social security fund into balance within a few more years as the tax rates rise.

Many elderly persons have other forms of income.

There has been a rapid growth in corporate pension funds in recent years. Union pension funds are also a growing part of the economic scene. Annuities and insurance benefit payments aid many others.

But inflation bites into any of these income sources, and only a few of the retired are in a position to increase their incomes to meet inflation's inroads.

As the number of those 65 and over grows from the present 14 million to an expected 18 million within 10 years, the problem is likely to grow too.

Ohio Fairs Fund Balance Is Set Now at $413,555

COLUMBUS, Ohio — State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy has reported a balance of $413,555 in the Ohio fairs fund.

The fund, authorized by the 1957 Legislature, is under attack in Franklin County courts by race-track interests.

The Legislature provided for a tax of one-half of one per cent on racetrack wagers to create the fund. Proceeds are used to help finance state, county and independent fairs.

First distribution from the fund last April totaled $453,540.

Statute provides for the Ohio State Fair to receive $80,000 from the fund as purse money for owners of Ohio horses participating in harness races. Other distributions include $2,500 to each county and independent fair, $2,500 for all fairs conducting horse or colt races and another $2,000 each as purse money for harness races held for Ohio-owned horses.

3,480-MILE STROLL—John Frey, 64, strides along near Battle Creek, Mich., on a 3,480-mile stroll from Regina, Sask., to Miami, Fla. At this time he had been on the road for 69 days, figured a hundred more. The knapsack weighs 40 pounds. Frey has logged 9,000 miles in the last four years.

Aboriginal Menu

IDABEL, Okla. (AP) — When 200 Indians got together for a tribal festival, there were several real American dishes that aren't served in many restaurants.

They included tafaulla (Indian hominy), banana shuck bread, and tanchakohona (cracked corn with pork).

'Female Brando' Dislikes California Sun, Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I never thought Hollywood would use me. There's no place out here for a fat girl. . . .

"I can't stand the sunshine in California. It's so relentless. But it's good for you, I guess. Even the old ladies out here look better than I do. . . ."

This was Maureen Stapleton talking, and she was living up to her billing as the female Marlon Brando.

She is like the early Brando—before he became husband, father and film producer. She has a similar disdain for the niceties of attire ("I hate clothes"). She is unimpressed by herself, Hollywood protocol and nearly everything.

Also Brando-like: She is a great performer, universally admired by her fellow actors.

Dore Schary is the man who got her to do a movie. He and director Vincent Donahue sought her to play the important role of an unhappy housewife in "Lonelyhearts" with Montgomery Clift, Robert Ryan and Myrna Loy.

How was she landed?

"Vinny called me up and asked me if I wanted to do it," she reported. "I loved the book and I liked the setup so I said yes."

Maureen has been called the American Magnani. She has originated two roles which have been fallen Magnani in the movie versions—"The Rose Tattoo" and the forthcoming "Orpheus Descending."

She also did the stage original of "27 Wagons Full of Cotton," which turned up on the screen as "Baby Doll" and made a star of Carroll Baker.

She'll vanish back to her New York haunts and a fall play as soon as "Lonelyhearts" is finished.

Ex-Ship's Captain Sleeps Easily Now

CLIFTON, N. J. (AP) — Jan Cwiklinski has no regrets.

Ten years ago he was captain of the Polish transatlantic liner Batory.

Today he works 16 hours a day in a roadside ice cream stand.

"I need a piece of bread," he says, "so I sell ice cream to get it. In Poland, when there is a knock on the door, you don't know if it is the milkman with the milk or the security police come to take you to jail. Here I am a free man, I work hard, but I sleep."

Nine years ago, when the Batory was docked in New York, Gerhart Eisler, reportedly America's top Communist, came aboard as a sightseer and stowed away in the laundry.

Eisler was free on bail after his conviction on perjury charges in connection with a passport declaration.

When Eisler presented himself at sea, the captain knew there would be trouble. He radioed New York and Warsaw as well as the ship's destination, London, informing authorities Eisler was aboard.

The United States wanted Eisler returned, Poland wanted him brought safely to Communist territory. Capt. Cwiklinski turned the matter over to the Polish consul at London.

The consul refused to surrender Eisler, but Scotland Yard men boarded the ship and carried him off.

After that the Batory was barred from ports in the United States.

Capt. Cwiklinski fled the ship in London in 1953. He worked for Radio Free Europe, and wrote a book, "The Captain Leaves His Ship."

He came to the United States in 1954. He saw a newspaper advertisement offering to sell ice cream stand franchises, and he bought one. He had money from the sale of his book and television rights to his story.

He says the work is harder than that of a ship captain, but it pays better too. As captain of the Batory, one of Poland's two transatlantic liners, he was paid only the equivalent of $65 a month.

The 57-year-old captain speaks English well. It is one of seven languages he knows.

The captain has a wife and two children in Poland. His daughter is 22, and attends a university. His son is 12. The Communists once took their house away but returned it.

He communicates with his family indirectly, and rarely, because he is an unpopular man in Poland. His wife is working, and he sends parcels—"bolts of cloth and things like that, things she can sell."

SIX MONTHS UP THERE IS HER AIM—Mauri Rose Kirby, 17, probably is using the busiest telephone in Indianapolis, Ind., because she's atop a 73-foot flagpole, where she says she'll stay for six months, to beat the 168-day record. She's starting a book on her sitting. She got that name because she was born on May 30, 1941, the day Mauri Rose scored the second of three wins at the 500-mile race in Indianapolis.

Ohio Highways Costing Too Much Money?

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican administration of Ohio Gov. C. William O'Neill is proud of its road-building program. Critics insist it is costing far too much money.

Who is right?

Unfortunately, no final answer was developed at a hearing last week by the Senate Roads Subcommittee on program standards of 11 states, including Ohio.

But the subcommittee chairman, Democrat Albert Gore of Tennessee, gave a clue to his own feelings.

Asked by a reporter whether he agrees with those who think Ohio is spending too much money on roads, he replied:

"Frankly, I'm more concerned with those states with standards that are below average than those that are above average."

This does not mean Gore is giving Ohio an "A" on its road program.

He plans to have his subcommittee investigate further into the question of road standards after Congress comes back next year.

Furthermore, during the recent investigation, Gore questioned whether Ohio and some of the more prosperous states might be getting more than their fair share of the billions of dollars in federal highway money.

States like Ohio, he said, can pretty easily put up their 10 per cent of the cost of interstate highways while the federal government supplies 90 per cent.

Other states, he said, find it hard to scrape up the 10 per cent. The result, he said, might be substandard roads in hard pressed states and above-standard ones in rich states.

The Ohio road program was vigorously defended by the man who is running it—Charles M. Noble.

The state's highway director took note of many criticisms contained in a study of his department's operations by the General Accounting Office. In every case—save for a 9-million-dollar book-keeping error that created into state records—Noble said GAO remarks were unjustified.

As to whether Ohio's road standards are too high, Noble told the subcommittee:

"It is not believed that the use of these standards resulted in excessive cost nor gave Ohio an advantage over other states."

"Of all past errors, none so haunts highway officials today as the failure to provide adequate rights-of-way for highway growth. Surely, we do not want to make that mistake with the interstate system."

Noble was strongly backed by Federal Highway Administrator Bartram Tallamy — except that Tallamy said he considered Noble's first plans too expensive and had him change them.

One of Noble's principal detractors, Cuyahoga County Engineer Albert S. Porter, a Democrat, attended the hearing but did not testify.

Porter, however, left behind a statement saying that naturally Tallamy would support Noble. Tallamy, he said, recommended Noble for his present job.

Daytonian Accused Of Beating Wife

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A Dayton man was accused today of stripping off his wife's clothing, beating her, pouring wine over her body and threatening to kill her.

The charge was filed by Mrs. Evelyn Scott, 31. Jailed without bond on an assault and battery charge was James N. Scott, 29.

Mrs. Scott said she fled from the house wrapped in a bath towel after her husband slugged her twice in the stomach. She called the sheriff's office from a neighbor's home and later filed her complaint in the mayor's court at Trotwood.

In New South Wales, Australia, Ronald Toomer sued his landlady for permitting a gas leak which killed two of his orchids and so affected his pet parakeet that it refused to talk for some months."

Fayette Countians To Help Stage Annual State Fair Wool Style Show

TO MODEL AT WOOL SHOW.—A sample of the wool suits that will be shown at the Ohio State Fair All Wool Style Show Sunday, are modeled by Miss Jo Reiff, (left), daughter of Mrs. N. M. Reiff, one of the show's sponsors, and Mrs. Gene Mark.

The latest styles in color, design and other features will be presented at the fourth annual All - Wool Style Show Sunday at the Ohio State Fair.

The show will be staged and produced by Mrs. Robert Terrell of New Vienna with the cooperation of Mrs. N. M. Reiff of the Martha Washington Shop of Washington C. H.

Bud's Men's Wear and Nichols Men's Wear, both of Washington C. H., will furnish the men's clothing and a Columbus firm will outfit the children. An Oregon company will show their latest styles in outdoor sportswear for men and women.

Before the show, Miss Kay Pfeiffer, Kenton, an Ohio State University sophomore, will be crowned as Ohio Wool Queen by Gov. C. William O'Neil. Miss Pfeiffer will be wearing an all white sheer wool evening dress which she designed and made herself. Her accessories will also be made of wool and will include an all wool muff.

THE THEME for the show will be "Travel," since more and more Americans tour all parts of the world each year. The show will present 10 complete traveling wardrobes from seashore outfits to motoring dress. Models will wear and carry all wool accessories including beautifully designed woolen purses.

The producers have selected a variety of tailored and afternoon dresses in all the new colors—bronze, brilliant black, red and the new amber green—and in the latest styles, the modified chemise and trapeze together with the classic designs.

The garments chosen are of all wool and will include the well known woolen fabrics and the latest material produced by the

Life of Crime Has Bumpy Side

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — One Denver automobile thief may never again try his hand at stealing a car.

The thief successfully crossed the ignition wires and started the motor of Clarence A. Serr's car. Then he hopped in and started to drive away.

Suddenly, the car came to a halt with a terrific jar. The thief deserted the car and fled. The car had a flat tire.

Wins Bet, but Pays

ARLINGTON, Va. — Richard E. Zimmerman won his bet but the District of Columbia collected.

Zimmerman, 19, leaped from the Key Bridge over the Potomac river to win a $20 bet. But he forfeited a $20 deposit the Washington police department asked on a disorderly conduct charge.

Engine No. 3 Is Veteran Movie Star

By ARMAND ARCHERD
Central Press Assn.

JAMESTOWN, Calif.—This is the most-robbed, most shotup community in the country. You'd think the folk around Jamestown, familiarly known as Jimtown, in the heart of the old Mother Lode country, would be up in arms over the situation. But they're not.

Only recently, another gang pulled a caper departed in the pattern set many times before: the railroad train chugged along, happily carrying its cargo of passengers and gold from the nearby mines when suddenly three horsemen rode down out of the hills.

They shot the engineer dead at the throttle, ransacked the cars, then sped back to their hiding place. They went thaitaway— I think.

However, nobody hereabouts paid much attention to all the shootin' and fireworks. Nobody called the marshal, 'ormed a posse, or called for a town hall meetin' to stop such goings-on. The people in town were more interested in the fact Gary Cooper was one of the passengers.

THE ROBBERY, of course, was staged for a movie, Man of the West. It was carefully blue printed in 11 pages of script penned by no less a master of prose than Reginald Rose, last year's award-winner for "Twelve Angry Men."

"These hold-up artists from Hollywood pour a lotta money in here," one of the oldtimers admitted.

While the hold-up was phony, the railroad train is not a product of Hollywood' magic in make-up or machinery. It's very real — the reason why Jamestown is "sacked and looted" so regularly.

It's a genuine 10-wheeler, the oldest in the country still licensed to operate. The engine dates back to 1880, as do some of the passenger cars—and passengers.

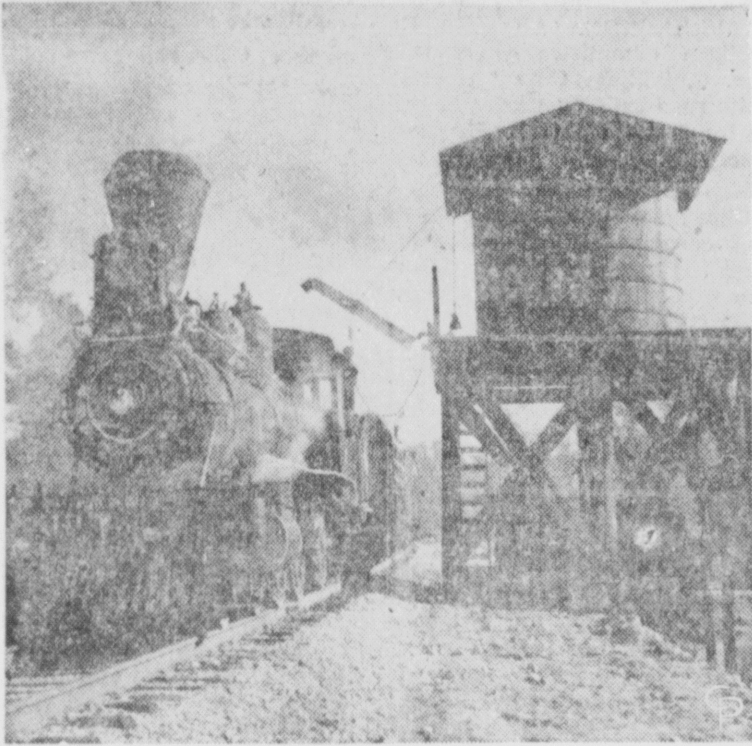

The train is owned and operated by the Sierra railroad which is one of the most profitable lines now operating in the United States, and runs 57 miles, through country once over-run by gold-rush prospectors.

THERE AREN'T many genuine old trains available for use in films, that's why film producers often camouflage more modern engines. However, old No. 3 on the Sierra Line is still a-huffin' and a-puffin' carrying her 150 pounds of steam, and, on a long straight-away she can gallop along at the frightening, thundering speed of 35 miles an hour—with a good tail wind.

Few trains can boast a more celebrated list of passengers than No. 3.

Years ago, when gold was still king, she hauled the pioneer Crocker family and other early westerners, plus visiting kings, queens, princes, including one, Prince Andre Poniatowski, descendant of the King of Poland, who helped to found the railroad line.

RECENTLY, No. 3 went Hollywood. Among those who have held her throttle are Gregory Peck, Barbara Stanwyck, even the Marx brothers. Gary Cooper, who rides aboard in "Man of the West," is a former customer from High Noon." No. 3 has also starred in "Union Pacific," "In Old Chicago," "Duel in the Sun," plus a parcel of television epics, more recently.

The man who actually runs No. 3 in her film appearances is Jim Baker, veteran railroader who gets a kick out of playing movie star. Between film roles, Baker runs the modern Diesel on the Sierra Line, to haul lumber of mainline connections.

BAKER is accustomed to being "robbed." When the bad guys rode out of the hills shooting at his train in this latest film, he manfully remained at his post. He got a big kick out of this epic because the script called for him to get up steam in a hurry and out-run the mounted bandits—he did!

When seen on the screen in "Man of the West", No. 3 will be known as the "Fort Worth and Chihuahua Railroad."

Its name changes from picture to picture, and it has been the Missouri Central, the Tex. Central, the Kansas Pacific, the St. Louis and Missouri, the Ohio and the Mississippi. It has been in as many movies as some stars. Some actresses have added names as often as she.

No. 3 was on the scrap heap, ready to be junked some time back, but Hollywood came to the rescue in the last seconds of the final reel and saved her—just as she does for Hollywood!

Investor Makes Long-Term Deposit

BOSTON (AP) — Superior Court Judge Frank J. Murray looked down from the bench at the defendants. Robert G. Schroeder, 35, and Lawrence T. Weymouth, 52, were charged with robbing the Second Federal Savings and Loan Assn. of $2,797.

"Will you inform your clients," the judge told their lawyer, "That I am a depositor in the bank they robbed, and ask if they want another judge to handle their case?" They didn't.

Depositor Murray sent them to state prison for 3-8 years each.

WESTFIELD, N. J. (AP) — Peter Lanza has patented a bite-proof hand he hopes will earn enough to feed him. Tired of being nipped while training his pet parakeets, he invented a plastic imitation hand, which can be placed in the bird's cage to accustom it to handling.

All for Nothing

DENVER (AP) — Elvires Martinez, 21, paid $3,600 for a hard-top automobile, then decided it wasn't low enough to the ground. He spent $600 more at a garage to take four inches off the top and lower the body six inches.

The first time Martinez drove his reconstructed car, a policeman stopped him and ordered the car hauled to the police pound. Not enough windshield space, the policeman ruled.

Ohio Jobless Total Drop by Another 3,000 in Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The total of jobless Ohioans collecting both regular and special unemployment benefits dropped by another 3,000 last week.

The new over-all total as of last Saturday was 201,584, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported. Regular benefits went to 145,438. Special benefits were paid to 56,146 persons who have exhausted their regular benefits.

The Legislature less than two months ago authorized temporary 13-week benefits for those who had exhausted their regular benefits and still were out of work.

The number of those receiving regular benefits last week was 6,252 below the previous week, but benefit exhaustion was responsible for 5,147 of the drop. That means a net reduction in unemployment of 1,105.

During the week, 16,744 new applications were filed for regular benefits and 5,318 for special benefits.

Timken Offers Steel Union Pension Deal

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The United Steelworkers Union today studied a new company offer to end a 30-day strike over a pension plan at Timken Roller Bearing Co.

Some 9,000 workers at plants here and in Columbus and Zanesville walked off their jobs July 23. Several incidents of violence involving strikers and non-strikers have resulted in police charges and minor injuries.

Another negotiating session between company and union is planned this afternoon.

The union wants the more experienced worker to be guaranteed a payment, such as a lump sum, if he gets laid off and has no prospect of qualifying for a pension. This is called a worker's vested interest in the pension program.

The latest company offer, made Wednesday, provides a vested interest. If an employee is laid off for a two-year period, the lay-off is considered permanent and he would receive a lump sum payment. For instance, a 40-year-old employee with 15 years service would receive a payment of $1,911.

Jap Longshoremen Finally Agree To Unload Missiles

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP)—Yokohama's longshoremen's union agreed tonight to unload a battery of guided missiles.

The government gave written assurance that the missiles were not nuclear weapons, and a union spokesman said the struggle against unloading had been based on a misunderstanding. Japan bought the missiles from Switzerland.

Unloading can not start until Sunday when the Japanese ship Arima Maru comes out of drydock into which it entered Tuesday with its controversial million dollar cargo still in its holds. The ship arrived Sunday with 10 missiles, a launcher and electronic equipment purchased by the Japanese defense agency for training purposes.

Edwin Arlington Robinson won the Pulitzer Prize for poetry in 1922, 1925 and 1928.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY
Because of the abnormal rain-fall this year, hordes of mosquitoes have been very much in evidence, not only in Washington C. H. but throughout the area where rainfall has been excessive.

I have talked with many people over a large area recently and found that not in recent years has the mosquito plague been as great as it has this year.

This reminds me of the terrible ordeal through which early Fayette Countians passed for upward of 100 years, until the thousands of acres of swamplands in the county were drained and the mosquito-breeding places destroyed.

Most of the pioneers were frequently so saturated with the odor of wood smoke that the mosquitoes did not molest them, but in those days, before wire screen had been thought of and "mosquito bar" had not come into use, there was little escape from the insects which spread malaria fever germs and possible other ailments of a more or less serious nature.

I have mentioned before that the early settlers had one bar to mosquitoes, and that was smoke from burning wood, because mosquitoes do not like smoke and remained away while the smoke hung about the log cabins and other areas.

It has been years since "fogging" to kill mosquitoes has been used here, and in many places this method is frowned upon as the spray is no respecter of insects, and kills many that are helpful.

"THE $10,000 BEAUTY"

Sale of that 45-year-old pumper which long has been a very useful relic in the Washington C. H. Fire Department, brings to mind the scores of fires I have seen in which the old pumper performed faithfully, even in below zero weather.

I remember when Ernest D. (Happy) Rodgers was the driver of that old truck. When he climbed into the seat with his 210 pounds of weight, that old pumper had to go places.

But what I started to tell you was when John Oster Jr. was mayor of the city, soon after the pumper was purchased for $10,000, he thought the price paid was entirely too high, and as a result, he ironically referred to the piece of equipment as "the $10,000 beauty."

THOSE POOR CRAWDADS!

Remember two or three months ago the "Paint Valley Prophet" came up with the forecast that the summer was to be "hot and dry".

"And brother, I mean hot and dry", he emphasized.

He based his forecast on the fact that the "Crawdads" were not building their usual mud houses over their holes in the wet ground.

Apparently the "crawdads" got their intuition twisted so badly that their antics were just the reverse of what they should have been. I am not blaming the "Paint Valley Prophet" for the extremely wet and cool summer we have had. It must be those doggone crawdads just didn't know what they were doing.

NATIVE TO FAYETTE

Among the several hundred different kinds of wildflowers and grasses native to Fayette County is the yellow or golden ironweed.

It belongs to the Veronia family which includes the common purple ironweed so general in pasture fields and other places in the county, but the golden flowers are quite different in size and shape from the clusters of the purple ironweed.

Recently I saw hundreds of these golden blooms along Sugar Creek near Octa, and some of the plants were five feet or more in height.

I have seen golden ironweed growing along Paint Creek back of the former Fayette Canning Co. plant, and at various points throughout Fayette and surrounding counties.

BAND BIRDS BY THOUSANDS

Recently David Krupla, Fayette County's fish and game protector who lives in Bloomingburg returned from five weeks spent in Alberta, Canada, where he and other conservation officials of the U. S. and Canada, banded water fowl by the thousands.

Officer Krupla was with a crew of two federal agents, one Canadian and a university student from Iowa. They formed one of several crews engaged in banding. His crew was second in the number of birds banded, with a total of 5,733 waterfowls, and 17 shore birds.

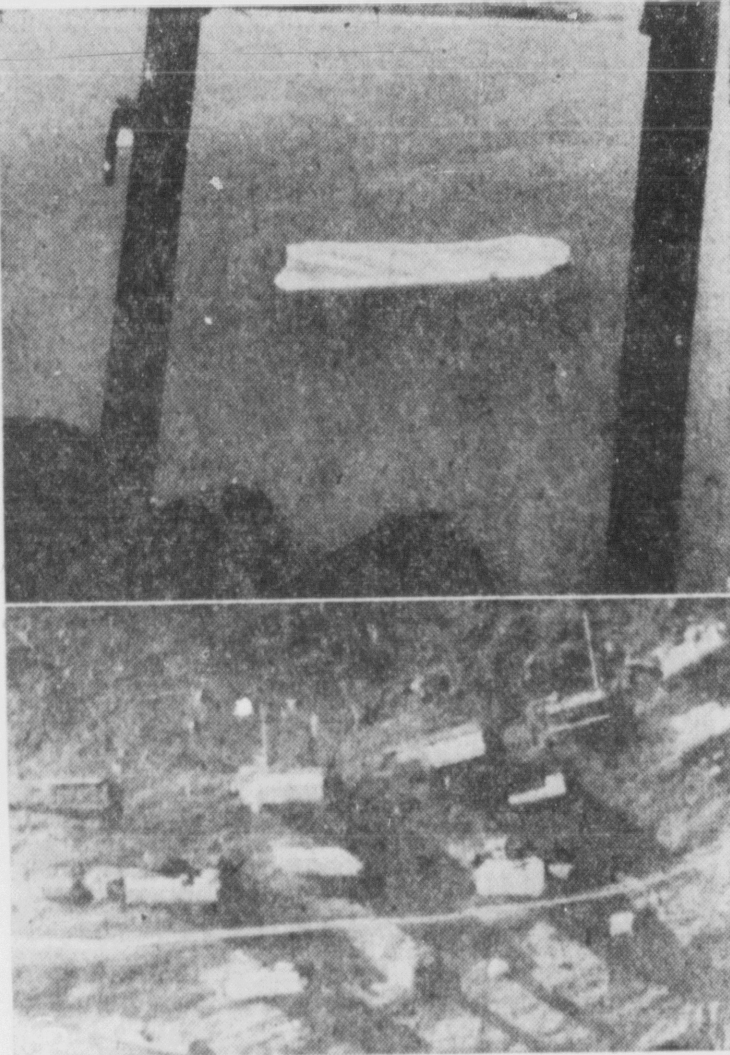

When Krupla told me he was going to Alberta on a bird-banding trip for the government, I knew he would be in the midst of countless numbers of waterfowl, for a number of years ago, while passing through Alberta, by train, I saw thousands of ducks and geese on the lakes near the railroad.

However this year it was exceedingly dry in that part of Canada, and waterfowl were not as abundant as usual.

In addition to the 17 shore birds banded by Krupla and his crew, the following waterfowl were given their aluminum band about one leg with a number so they could be identified wherever found.

1,159 mallards, 2,697 pintails, 664 bluewing teals, 86 green wing teals, 444 shovellers, 90 gadwalls, 391 baldpates, 14 redheads, four canvasbacks, 9 scups, 130 coots and 12 Canadian geese.

Traps of poultry netting were used in obtaining the fowls, and the five weeks spent in the work in Alberta provided a great deal of interest (and hard work) for the naturalists.

POPULATED BERG—This is the 45-square-mile chunk of ice in the Arctic ocean known as T-3, and Fletcher's Island, as seen from the U. S. Navy blimp ZPG-2 which soared way up there from the U. S. "Just Married — Watch Baltimore Grow!"

Secret of Success

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (P)—Keith Locke, discussing his record-breaking mile in the state high school track meet, was asked by a fellow church member if he prayed during the race.

Yes, he said he did: "I said, Lord, you pick 'em up and I'll put 'em down."

Enough's Enough

AUSTIN, Minn. (P)—Rising taxes? A rural school district near here has eliminated them entirely for next year. The district board looked at its $6,000 bank balance and decided it was enough for 1959 operations.

BY MRS. JOHN MORGAN

BOY SCOUTS CAMP

Boy Scout Troop 303 met at Edward Rankin's garage last Thursday to go to Pike Lake for a four-day camping trip.

Eugene Klontz drove his truck and Scoutmaster Donald Hodge, Cubmaster and Mrs. Charles Hise, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Dice, Mrs. Ward Bartruff and Larry Lane drove cars.

Camp was set up, the boys went swimming and then enjoyed a picnic supper.

A rain the first night, sent 11 boys from their pup-tents to sleep in the truck. Friday and Saturday night the boys slept in the cars and truck.

The group had their blankets and clothing fairly dried out on Saturday when another rain came up while the boys were swimming. What clean clothes they had laid out were soaked before the could get back to their tents. Scarcely anyone had dry clothes or blankets for Saturday night.

All the rain did not dampen their camping spirit as they were talking of a weekend trip to Rocky Fork sometime in September as they broke camp to come home.

Boys making the trip were David Harris, Curtis Hise, Alar Bartruff, Vernon Klontz, Billy Creamer, Roger and Kenny Hodge, Johnny Bartruff, Randy Dice, Johnny Minton, Joe Lane, Ricky Huff, Frankie Yoakum, Larry Conley, Glenn Rankin and J. P. Morgan.

Scoutmaster Hodge and Eugene Klontz camped with the boys, with John Morgan going on Friday evening to stay rest of the time.

On Sunday the families and their guests arrived at noon with well filled baskets for a picnic dinner.

Those going to Pike Lake for the picnic, in addition to those already there, were Mrs. Ward Bartruff and children, Danny, Ricky, Jackie and Bobbie; Mr. and Mrs. John Bartruff and daughter, Sandra, and granddaughter, Pamela; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Zurfue and daughter, Debbie; Mrs. Donald Hodge and daughter, Sue; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Minton and daughter, Mary Jo; Mr. Fred Hodge, Cubmaster and Mrs. Charles Hise; and children, Debbie, Johnny, Mark and David; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Dice, Miss Grace Shubert, Kathy Allen, Joan and Jackie DeWeese, Ruth Ann and Helen Louise Sheeley, Bonnie and Barbara Creamer, Jim Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Yoakum and daughter, Janice; Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Lee Creamer; Mrs. Eugene Klontz and children, Roger and Frances; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rankin and children, Johnny and Penny; Mrs. Charles Palmer and Mrs. John Morgan and son, Charles.

SONG FEST

The second "Song Fest" was held at the South Solon Methodist Church Sunday evening for the Milledgeville Charge.

The service was in charge of Mrs. Richard Jarvis and Mrs. Thomas Ankrum.

South Solon church presented several special numbers and the other three churches, Center, Spring Grove and Milledgeville, presented their special number as one group. The Rev. and Mrs. Jarvis sang a duet. Congregational singing and prayer closed the service.

Those representing the Milledgeville Church were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ankrum and children, Wanda and Darrell; Mrs. Bernice Crowe, Mrs. Donald Jenkins and daughter, Lynn, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Klontz and son, Kurt.

The next Song Fest will be held at the Center Church, Sunday evening, Sept. 21, at 8 p. m.

HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Mr. Hoyt Bock was honored on his birthday, when Mrs. Bock entertained with a picnic at their home Monday evening.

Boy Going To School Despite Killing

CARROLLTON, Ohio (AP) — Orlo J. Beckley, 17, is free to proceed with his senior year at Conotton Valley High School next month. Until Wednesday he was held in jail, charged with murder in a fatal shooting that already had been ruled accidental by the coroner.

He was released because Juvenile Judge William T. Allmon dismissed charges filed by Mrs. Thelma Lloyd of Leesville. She signed an affidavit last week declaring the boy shot her daughter last July 15 "with premeditated malice."

However, Coroner Clarence J. Deckman had ruled 14-year-old Thelma Sue Lloyd's death was accidental. Beckley's rifle was discharged as he and two companions were target shooting near the Lloyd home.

Judge Allmon, after hearing several witnesses in a closed hearing, said there was not sufficient evidence to warrant consideration by a court or jury.

Lumberman Nominated By Idaho Democrats

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—A lumberman who favors revival of legalized gambling in Idaho emerged Wednesday as the Democratic candidate for governor, winner in one of the closest primary contests in state history.

State Sen. A. M. Derr of Clark Fork captured the Democratic nomination by 13 votes from State Sen. H. Max Hanson of Fairfield, who opposed his gambling platform.

The Republican candidate is Gov. Robert E. Smylie, who was unopposed for renomination.

Arsonist Blamed In Newark Fires

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Arson has been blamed for a third mysterious fire at the W. W. Reynolds orchard farm southwest of Utica.

The third fire, in a cardboard barrel in a barn, was discovered and doused before it could spread. Two other fires causing nearly

Sheriff William McElroy said it was obvious the fire had been set intentionally. The earlier fires are still under investigation.

Neighbor's Mower Blade Kills Man

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Thomas Tabor chatted with his neighbor, Raymond Plaisance, then strolled across the street toward home Plaisance returned to mowing his lawn. Suddenly his power mower threw its blade which sailed across the street and sank into Tabor's back. He died of a punctured lung.

STRIKE WITH ALL YOU HAVE WHEN A MUSKY HITS. HELL GRAB YOUR PLUG BETWEEN HIS SHARP TEETH AND IT WILL TAKE A HE-MAN JERK TO SET THE HOOKS INTO HIS BONY JAW.

BE GENTLE IN REMOVING THE HOOK FROM AN ILLEGAL FISH BEFORE RETURNING IT TO THE WATER. IF THE HOOK WAS SWALLOWED, CUT THE LINE, NATURE HAS A WAY OF RELEASING IT IN TIME.

USE PLIERS WHEN REMOVING HOOKS FROM A PIKE, MUSKY OR PICKEREL. THEY CAN INFLECT NASTY CUTS WITH THEIR MANY SHARP TEETH.

DON'T THROW FISH BACK. RETURN THEM TO THE WATER. GENTLY. THEY SUFFER FROM SHOCK AFTER BEING PLAYED. ALSO, WET YOUR HANDS BEFORE HANDLING FISH. DRY HANDS MAY KILL THEM.

Those Pesky Bums Cop 3rd Straight From Milwaukee

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Dodgers did it again!
They blew some more foam off Milwaukee's National League lead Wednesday night, taking their third in a row from the Braves 2-1.
That slashed the champs' lead to 5½ games, with two games remaining in the series at Los Angeles before Milwaukee plunges into a five-game set with the second-place Giants at San Francisco.

The Dodgers got only four hits off Warren Spahn. At that, they needed only the last two, scoring in the fifth inning on Joe Pignatano's home run, a walk and Norm Larker's triple.

All that with San Francisco's 4-3 afternoon victory over Cincinnati beaming down on the Braves from the Coliseum scoreboard.

Philadelphia quit the cellar and cut a losing string at seven games by rapping St. Louis 12-2 with Willie Jones driving in eight runs. Third-place Pittsburgh beat the Chicago Cubs 4-2, then lost 5-1 in the second game of the double-header held to five innings by rain and darkness.

In the American League, the and darkness.

Bob Friend took his 13th defeat in the nightcap at Chicago. Dick Drott (6-10) didn't give up a hit until Bill Mazeroski slapped his 16th home run in the fifth inning. Friend got the only other Buc hit, a two-out double in the same frame.

Dick Stuart's two-run homer, his 11th, and a pair of RBI singles by Dick Groat bagged the opener for the Bucs and Ron Kline (12-11).

The Giants, blanked on two hits for four innings by Harvey Had-dix, scored two in the fifth on Ray Jablonski's pinch double and a bases-loaded walk, then handed reliever Brooks Lawrence (6-12) his ninth defeat in a row as Valmy Thomas singled, Jabbo doubled and Bill White lined a pinch single that scored them both in the sixth. Al Worthington (10-5) won it in relief.

Jones banged a pair of three-run homers and a two-run double for the best one-game production by a Phillie since Del Ennis drove in seven against the same Cardinals in 1955. Harry Anderson also homered for the Phils, making Robin Roberts' 13th victory a breeze. Billy Muffett (4-5) lost it. The second-place Chicago White Sox have a seven-game winning streak, their longest in two years. The first-place New York Yankees have a winning streak of one, their longest in a week.

That's the way things stand as the White Sox roll into Yankee Stadium tonight for the opener in a three-game set.

The White Sox are on a drive to nail second place (although Manager Al Lopez insists they're shooting for the flag) and at the moment they're doing right well, winning 15 of their last 18 games in a rush from fourth place. They're now 10½ games behind New York.

They built a four-game lead over third-place Boston by beating the Red Sox 10-8 Wednesday after blowing a six-run lead.

The Yankees, who had lost four in a row, ended that with a 7-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Detroit clung to fourth by belting Washington 7-1 while Baltimore regained fifth with a 4-3 decision over Kansas City.

County Employee Vacation Rule Told

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Attorney General ruled today that a county employee with an aggregate of 15 years of service is entitled to three weeks of annual vacation leave regardless of whether that service was continuous or intermittent.

Atty. Gen. Saxbe said Ohio law also allows a 15-year employee up to six weeks off in any one year against unused leave accumulated during his time of service, subject to the discretion of his department head.

Fulton County Prosecutor John H. Barber asked for the opinion.

Colonel "Light Horse Harry" Lee, hero of the American Revolution, was father of General Robert E. Lee, of Civil War fame.

Museum Window Traps Many Birds

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Birds are dying to get into Dayton's new natural history museum.

E. J. Koestner, director, said some two dozen robins, flickers, waxwings and catbirds have come to an untimely end against the museum's big picture window this summer.

"The window shows reflections of trees and to a bird it looks like the wide open spaces, I suppose," Koestner theorizes.

The window's victims will end up inside the museum after all. "Our bird collection is very small," said Koestner, "so we're freezing them and eventually they will be mounted and added to the display."

Lions Show Up Well In First Drill Session

His team's showing during the first day of practice impressed Washington High Football Coach Fred Domenico.

The team showed down after a fast morning practice, but that was to be expected on the first day with the high temperature in the afternoon. Considerable time was spent on tackling and pass defense during the two drills held Wednesday.

"Tackling, which left a lot to be desired last year, is going to be corrected this year by constant rehearsal," Line Coach Marvin Merritt said. Tackling drills will be repeated over.

OF THE LINEMAN who looked good first day, Merritt singled out Ron Carter, Jack Crabtree, Jack Hamilton, Bob Huff and Tim Kellogg. Jim Landrum looks as if he will be able to handle the center position, Merritt observed.

Sophomore Jim Meyer is now playing tackle in addition to the center duties he handled as a freshman last year.

TWENTY MINUTES the afternoon session was devoted to pass defense. The coaches were teaching the defensive backs to analyze plays.

Cubs Nip Cowboys, Jets Edge Kernels

The Cubs finally outlasted the Cowboys, 11 to 8, in the "wild" Little Major League contest at Wilson Field Wednesday night. Walks were plentiful on both teams.

The Jets edged the Kernels, 6 to 4, in the other Major League game last night. A box score was not available on this game as both team managers had to serve as umpires.

Nine hits were blasted by the winning Cubs while the Cowboys could only connect for three. Anders and Minshall led the winners at the plate with two safeties each.

The three Cowboy bingles were hit by Wright, Lentz and Kelly. Johns took credit for the win and Lentz was charged with the defeat.

Good Hoppers Win, 9-3, at Bloomingburg

Good Hope rapped out nine hits in knocking off Bloomingburg, 9 to 3, in the Babe Ruth League game at Bloomingburg Wednesday night.

At Rossmann Field last night, the Bray Sportsmen once again had their game stopped because of darkness. They were leading New Holland, 16 to 6, when the game was called at the end of the third inning.

The Bray - New Holland game will be replayed at 5 p. m. Monday at Rossmann Field.

McConaughy paced the Good Hope victory by binging out two doubles. The Good Hope pitcher, Hatfield, gave up only three hits, all to Ayers.

One of Ayers' hits was a four-bagger in the fourth inning. R. Evans and Carman shared pitching duties for Bloomingburg.

Dykes Is Angling For Redleg Post

CINCINNATI (AP) — Jimmy Dykes says he'd like to have the job of managing the Cincinnati Redlegs next season but his chances don't look good.

Gabe Paul, Redleg general manager, didn't rule Dykes out completely, however. He said his previous statement that Dykes was not to be considered was not a thing beyond changing.

Dykes, 61, took over as acting manager of the Redlegs last week when Birdie Tebbetts resigned.

Wednesday at San Francisco he said, "Sure, I'd like this job permanently. Once you're a manager, you always want the job again."

Paul said present plans are to have Dykes finish out the season as the field boss of the Cincinnati Reds.

Champ Slashed In Winning Over Smith

CHICAGO (AP) — Welterweight champion Virgil Akins saved face Wednesday night with a 10th-round technical knockout of hardy Charlie (Tombstone) Smith.

He didn't have much face to save.

Smith, a gangling 4-1 underdog, opened cuts at the corner of Akins' eyes. By the 10th of the nationally televised show, the champ's face was a crimson mask.

The end came suddenly for Smith, eighth-ranking contender from Los Angeles. Tombstone had a big lead on all official cards as he christened the rusty Akins with long, popping lefts and digging rights.

In the 10th round, Akins charged Smith furiously at the bell and pummeled him with rights and lefts.

A left hook decked Tombstone for an eight count. He arose fog-bound.

Then Akins drove him into a corner. He landed 16 rights and lefts without Tombstone fighting back. Referee Frank Sikora stopped it at 1:18.

In making his first ring appearance since winning the welterweight title last June, Akins weighed 150 to Smith's 148.

DARIEN, Conn. (AP)—Barbara Romack, from Sacramento, Calif., and Mrs. George Valentine, veteran of British golf competition, clashed today in a repeat match in the fifth round of the U.S. Women's Golf Championship.

It was three years ago that Miss Romack and Mrs. Valentine met in the final of the British Women's Championship.

Barbara took a 7 and 6 licking from her veteran Scottish opponent.

Two rounds were scheduled today to reduce the record match play to four semifinals. The winner of the morning match between Miss Romack and Mrs. Valentine meets the victor between Berridge Long, 21-year-old daughter of a Huntington, W. Va. newspaper publisher, and Harriet Glanville of Long Beach, Calif.

Senator Hails Report U. S. To End A-Tests

Leaders Said Ready To Announce Plan Ahead of Negotiations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) today cheered a report that the United States is about ready to announce a temporary suspension of nuclear weapons testing.

Humphrey, chairman of the Senate Disarmament subcommittee, said in an interview his staff had been informed such a step was under consideration.

"A temporary suspension on our part as a prelude to negotiation of a safeguarded agreement would be good, sound public policy," Humphrey said. "It would win us friends around the world, and put us out in front in the disarmament field."

The White House declined either to confirm or deny the report, which came Wednesday night from an informed source.

The source, asking to remain anonymous, said the government hopes a temporary halt might pave the way to a permanent international agreement for a test suspension, with adequate safeguards.

The United States has been conducting a test series in the Pacific. These tests began last spring and are scheduled to end soon.

The Soviet Union announced a unilateral test suspension last March at the end of a test series. Britain has been preparing to start a new series of tests in the Pacific.

Scientists from both Western and Communist nations announced agreement Tuesday on a technical system for policing any test suspension. This agreement was reached in seven weeks of talks in Geneva, Switzerland.

The eight-nation conference held a final formal session at which a part of the technical agreement reached was announced.

The seven-week conference was confined strictly to scientific questions. The Western delegates were instructed to hold no negotiations toward agreement on a test ban, but only to make recommendations to the governments on how such a ban could be policed.

The experts urged that control station staffs should have complete freedom of movement for on-the-spot investigations, and that stations should be set up at sea as well as on land.

An announcement said the combined use of the various known methods for detecting nuclear explosions could make control of a test ban feasible "within certain specific limits."

The announcement did not explain these limits.

The conference's published findings did not recommend any definite number of control stations, nor a maximum effective distance between the stations.

The announcement listed the following methods to be used by the control stations: "collecting samples of radioactive debris, recording seismic, acoustic and hydroacoustic waves, and the radio signal method, together with the use of on-site inspection of unidentified events which might be suspected of being nuclear explosions."

WCH Jaycee Group Pays Visit to Sabina Chapter

Eight Washington C. H. Jaycees visited the Sabina chapter Wednesday for a social meeting.

Tom Anders presided at a business session during which the Sabina group completed plans for a Halloween masquerade dance to be held in the Municipal Building.

The ham dinner was held in a Sabina restaurant. The Sabina Jaycees were organized earlier this year.

Members attending from here were Omar (Jim) Schwartz, Robert Tice, Luke Roberts, Dave Six, Tom Vretos, Jack Doyle, J. O. Garrison and Paul Efav.

The next activity of the Washington C. H. Jaycees is a business meeting Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the clubhouse.

Swedish 'Rocket' King Irks Norwegian Kids

OSLO (AP)—Ten thousand teenagers went berserk Wednesday night because their Norwegian favorite wasn't crowned king of the rock 'n' roll.

Pandemonium broke after the six judges chose a Swede.

The spectators tried to rush the stage. A cordon of police and stadium attendants halted them while the newly crowned king and the judges—two Swedes and two Norwegians—sneaked out the back way.

Police Cycle Ready

Police said Thursday morning that their new three-wheel motorcycle will probably be put in operation Thursday afternoon. The license plates arrived from Columbus Thursday morning.

St. Andrew's Kindergarten Opens Sept. 2

St. Andrew's Episcopal Church announces the opening of its kindergarten school on Sept. 2.

The school, which was started several years ago, will be held in the parish hall. Registrations are being accepted by Mrs. Weldon Kaufman and Mrs. John Bath, in charge of the church's school committee.

The kindergarten will follow the regular Ohio school year. To be eligible, a child must be 5 years old by Sept. 3.

The school will be divided into two different sessions, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon. The morning session will run from 9 until 11:30 and will be supervised by Mrs. Jack Montgomery.

Mrs. Winston Hill will be in charge of the afternoon sessions which will be held from 1:30 until 4. There will be a limit of 25 children to each session.

The school is designed to prepare the child for entrance into the first grade and the curriculum will consist of crafts, music, stories, games and other activities.

National Plow Site Hill Is Called Unsafe

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—A rhu-barb developed today on the safety of a hilly site for the two-day 16th National Plowing Championships. Mrs. Pauline Blankenship, 38-year-old farm mother from Murfreesboro, Tenn., who is the only woman entered in the contest, said the hill was "not too safe" for contour plowing with a tractor.

Both she and Minnesota's entrant, Donald W. Eikoff, of Fountain, said the steep hill—it has a 12 per cent grade—would be restricted to pasture were in on their farms back home.

Neither planned a protest. Both went ahead with plans to compete in the contour championship today in competition with nine others of the finest plowmen in the nation. Another 10 or 11 will vie for honors Friday in the level land plowing event.

Ralph E. Patterson, Penn State agriculture engineering expert, took issue with the opinions expressed by Mrs. Blankenship and Eikoff. He said safety was a big factor in choosing the site.

"It has been examined by the Pennsylvania Rural Farm Safety Council and found okay," he said. "Certainly any state champion contour plowman can plow safely on a contour of that grade."

Some 2,500 acres of the choicest farmland owned by Hershey Estates has been transformed into a circus like atmosphere for the two-day contests which will see winners receive about $1,000 in cash prizes. They also will earn a trip to the world championships in Northern Ireland next year.

Jordan Finds 5 Arabs Guilty

2 Face Execution For Amman Bombings

AMMAN (AP)—A Jordanian military court today convicted five young Arabs of exploding bombs in Amman and sentenced two of them to death.

One of the defendants was a 19-year-old girl, Nadia Salti. She got a 7½-year sentence which was immediately commuted to three years.

The death sentences were decreed for Miss Salti's 22-year-old fiancé, Theodore Stephan; and Ahmed Mahmoud Ibrahim, 22, an employee of the Jordanian Health Department who was charged with leading the group.

Basil Hamati, 24, a photographer for the U.N. relief agency, was sentenced to 15 years. He was accused of smuggling explosives into Jordan on U.N. planes. A fifth defendant, Hamed Tewfiq Sammour, 22, was sentenced to 10 years.

The outcome of the trial to some extent undercut a new propaganda campaign which opponents of King Hussein outside Jordan had been trying to launch.

Adherents of President Nasser of the United Arab Republic had spread the word through the Arab world several days ago that all five defendants had been sentenced to hang. Nasser's Cairo radio called the black-haired, sun-browned beautiful Miss Salti a Moslem Joan of Arc.

The trial was the second of persons charged with smuggling arms or explosives from Syria since the current crisis began. Thirteen persons were sentenced to death on Aug. 13.

Actually the girl is a Christian, a member of the Greek Orthodox Church. So is her fiancé.

The Soviet news agency Tass today joined in the cry, reprinting Cairo press reports that Miss Salti had been given an "unlawful death sentence" because she resented "the occupation of her homeland by British troops."

Greenfield Man Charged after Boy Is Wounded

GREENFIELD — Warne Handley, owner of the former Rucker stone quarry property near here, was found guilty in the Bainbridge Mayor's Court Wednesday afternoon on a charge of pointing fire arms. Handley was held following the wounding of a boy at the quarry pond.

Ross County deputies said the youth, Terry Losey, 13, Greenfield, was treated at a doctor's office and released. He was struck by pellets in both legs and the left wrist as he was dressing after a swim.

Handley was questioned after the shooting Wednesday by Ross County deputies and then charged. He pleaded not guilty.

Found guilty he was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail. Twenty-three of the days were suspended on the condition he pays the doctor's bill. Handley is now serving the seven days in the Ross County jail.

Terry told officers he and two other boys, whom he did not know, had been swimming and were dressing when he was wounded. He said the gun was fired twice, once "over my head."

Furniture Arrives For Two New Schools

Classroom furniture for the new East Side and Belle Aire schools has arrived, according to W. A. Smith, city superintendent.

The new desks and chairs will be uncrated when the classrooms are ready he said. A number of construction details remain to be completed before school starts on Sept. 2, but the board has been assured the two buildings will be ready for classes.

Some work will remain to be done after school starts, Smith said.

First and second grade rooms are being repainted in the old buildings.

Mainly About People

Joe W. Moses, 61, Atlanta, was re-ried in "good" condition in Memorial Hospital Thursday. He has been a patient since July 28. Moses received injuries in a three-vehicle crash on Route 22 Monday afternoon, July 28.

Mrs. Jack Wood, 519 S. North St., is a patient in University Hospital, Columbus, for observation and treatment. Her room number is 983.

Miss Esther Marting, 23, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam B. Marting Sr., Route 3, remains in "good" condition in Memorial Hospital. Miss Marting was severely injured Saturday evening in front of Herb's Drive-In.

Carl Robert is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kinzer, 1153 E. Temple St., for their son born in Memorial Hospital Friday.

Thurl G. Campbell, Locust Grove Rd., is making a rapid improvement in Memorial Hospital where he underwent minor surgery Friday.

Robert A. Craig, 403 Rawlings St., was reported in "good" condition in Memorial Hospital Thursday where he has been a medical patient since Saturday.

Mrs. Cleo Clark, New Holland, is now employed as a beautician at the Cherry Beauty Parlor, 201 N. Main St.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Johns, Jeffersonville, have named their daughter Allyson Monette. She was born in Memorial Hospital Friday.

Mrs. C. L. Snyder and daughter, Mrs. Virginia Thompson, have returned from Boulder, Colo., where they visited with Mrs. Snyder's son, Andrew C. Thompson and his family of Wonder Lake, Ill. Thompson was in Boulder to attend the Electronics Engineers Assn. national convention. While in Colorado, Mrs. Snyder and her daughter visited Estes Park and Colorado Springs. They made the round trip from Chicago to Denver by jet plane.

Manager Candidate Meets with Council

City councilmen interviewed an Ohio applicant for the city managership at an informal meeting Wednesday night but took no conclusive action.

Council President Ben Norris said that the applicant, now employed, is one of the more promising candidates for the post which will be vacated by James F. Parkinson Oct. 1.

Only local applicant has been Fire Chief George Hall who appeared for a two-hour interview Monday night.

Norris said that there is a possibility that a Missouri man will be interviewed later this week.

No formal action will be taken before the next regular meeting of Council on Wednesday of next week, and there may not be a decision then.

Do-It-Yourself Dentistry Is OK

NEW YORK (AP)—Seven-year-old Debbie Scott of Brooklyn was told she'd have to have two loose front teeth pulled by a dentist. Debbie asked her mother what the dentist would do.

"Well, he's going to take something that looks like a pair of pliers and pull out the old teeth," her mother replied.

Debbie skipped away. A little later returned. Her wide grin played a big toothless gap. She'd found a pair of pliers, gone before the bathroom mirror and done her own dentistry.

"Didn't hurt a bit," she assured her mother.

Belle Aire PTA Group Planned

Organizing Session Scheduled Sept. 4

A planning committee to organize a Belle Aire School Parent-Teacher Assn. met Wednesday afternoon at Washington High School.

A temporary chairman and committees were appointed. The school will open for the first time on Sept. 2.

Assistance was given to the planning committee by other PTA groups in the city and also by Mrs. Harrison Witters, PTA director of the Southwest District, Dayton. She explained the organization procedures.

The organization meeting will be held Sept. 4, at 7:30 p. m. in the new Belle Aire School. All parents in the school district are urged to attend.

THE FOLLOWING temporary appointments were made at the meeting yesterday:

Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, planning chairman, and Mrs. Ted Yeakum, secretary.

By-laws — Mrs. John Williams, chairman, Mrs. William Lucas Jr., Mrs. Robert Creamer, Mrs. Roger Miller and Mrs. Robert Angus.

Nominating — Mrs. James DeWeese, Mrs. Charles Lutz, Mrs. Roger Whitley and Mrs. Howard S. Harper.

Publicity chairman — Mrs. Maurice Hopkins, and program chairman, Mrs. Floyd West.

Hospitality committee — Mrs. Irwin Reeves, Mrs. Marcus Crago, Mrs. Charles Bowers, Mrs. Charles Schneider, Mrs. Robert Murphy, Mrs. Robert Seymour, Mrs. Charles Simpson and Mrs. Gene Ladrach.

Jobless Claims Show Increase Here

Unemployment claims took an unexpected jump last week. Fifteen new claims were filed compared with eight registered the preceding week, according to Mrs. Matilda Jo Smith, manager of the Washington office of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

Continuing claims also were on the increase with 228 compared with 220 for the week ending Aug. 8.

Claims filed for extended benefit checks dropped, she said. Last week there were five new claims filed for extended temporary compensation. This compares with nine filed the week before.

Continuing claims for extended benefits dropped from 53 to 52.

Car Crashes Fence; Three Girls Unhurt

A car with three girls as passengers ran off Route 38 early Thursday, heavily damaging the car but leaving the girls unhurt, according to sheriff's deputies.

Marjorie Dials, 17, of Route 2, Mt. Sterling, was the driver. Two miles north of Washington, C. H., while going around a curve, her car went off the berm crashing into a fence, the officers report said. Deputies estimated $400 damage to her car. Also damaged were six fence posts and eight rods of fencing.

Two passengers, Brenda Doren, S. Solon, and Marjorie Lewis, Mt. Sterling, were also unhurt, the report said.

BOTH DRIVERS, Eleanor Jean Vansickle Swift, 29, Hillsdale, Mich., and Esther Grove Strouth, 37, Camp Grove Rd., told police they had the green light in an accident at Washington and Elm at 4:40 p. m. Wednesday. Neither driver was injured and there were no citations.

Earl Aills, Peabody Ave., and Roberta G. Nichols, Kent, were drivers involved in a minor accident at Elm and Columbus Wednesday at 3:30 p. m.

Britain OKs Delivery Of New Arms for Iraq

LONDON (AP)—Britain has authorized the delivery of some light military equipment to the Iraq regime, the Foreign Office announced today.

A spokesman told a news conference some orders placed by the old regime for light military equipment are being filled.

Britain, along with the United States, stopped shipment of all war potential goods to Iraq immediately after the country's revolutionary leaders seized power July 14.

Permit Issued For New Home

The biggest building permit issued by the city auditor's office during the past week calls for a $10,000 home.

Willard Armbrust will build the residence on Leesburg Ave. James McBrayer, renewed a $2,500 permit for building a frame addition for a bedroom and breezeway at 541 High St.

Richard Waters, 1128 S. Paint St., requested a $500 permit for a private garage. Lawrence Alexander, 907 Broadway, received a permit to build a private garage costing $400.

A private garage attached to the house will be built by Atrice Haynie, 812 Clin' on Ave. The cost estimate is $800.

Council Refuses To Invite Bids on Greenfield Utility

GREENFIELD — Village Council by a vote of 3 to 2 has rejected a request made by Mayor Robert J. Smith for permission to invite the Dayton Power & Light Co. and the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. to appraise the municipal power plant and distribution system and make offers to buy the entire light and power utility.

In phrasing his request, Mayor Smith said the companies would be asked to break down their proposals and specify the value they placed on the generating equipment and the distribution system, separately.

"This is in no way an obligation or binding on the Village, nor is it an expense to us," he explained.
